U.S. Army Troops Under Withering Fire Near Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Army troops came under withering Communist fire today near Saigon and in the coastal ricelands. Over North Viet Nam, a pair of Soviet-made missiles knocked a Navy jet out of the sky.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey arrived at the Saigon airport late today accompanied by South Vietnamese chief of state Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. He will leave for five other Asian capitals on Sunday after emphasizing the hopes for social, economic and political progress expressed by President Johnson at his Honolulu meeting with the Vietnamese leaders.

The brace of surface-to-air missiles hit the Navy A4 Skyhawk during a raid Wednesday on Hon Mat Island, 33 miles south of the North Vietnamese coastal city of Thanh Hoa, a U.S. spokesman reported. The pilot bailed out over the South China Sea and was rescued by a helicopter from the guided-missile frigate England.

The loss of the jet fighter-bomber was the first attributed to missiles since the United States ended the 37-day bombing pause on Jan. 31. Navy and Air Force planes kept up the heavy schedule of attacks on the Communist North, hitting bridges, trucks and railroad box cars.

Pilots reported intense antiaircraft fire, which American military officials saw as proof of their warnings that the North Vietnamese would strengthen their air defenses during the suspension of raids.

The heaviest action on the ground broke out near Cu Chi, 25 miles west of Saigon, when a large number of Viet Cong snipers and mortar men rose like jacks-in-the-box from camouflaged openings in the huge tunnel complex in the area.

They poured heavy fire on two companies of the U.S. 25th Division who recently established positions in the area. The fighting broke out almost within hailing distance of their headquarter's area.

Army helicopters fired rockets at suspected Communist mortar positions, but it appeared they did not have much success. The Viet Cong apparently pulled back into their tunnels, which run for miles and are in four tiers in some places. The 25th Division troops are wrecking the tunnel system.

U.S. casualties were officially described as light, and the Communist toll was not known since the Viet Cong left behind no bodies. An exploding mortar killed a U. S. Army photographer and injured or killed several other Americans. Bob Jones, military writer of the Honolulu Advertiser, was hit in the back, leg, and hands by fragments from the mortar but was reported in good condition.

Tompos Asks For Study Of Clemency Bid

CHARLESTON (AP) — The West Virginia Senate was scheduled to vote today on a resolution by Sen. William Tompos, D - Hancock, asking for an interim study into the West Virginia Board of Probation and Parole's reasons for recommending clemency for Morton H. Rosenshine.

Tompos offered the resolution Wednesday. He said Rosenshine was sentenced to 1 to 10 years in prison during the summer of 1964 after being found guilty on two counts of embezzlement in the Hancock County Court.

"The board refused to parole Rosenshine last September," he said, "but Gov. Hulett Smith granted a complete pardon last December, just three months later. And the governor said his decision was based in part on the fact that the board had recommended mercy."

"I'm sure the governor recognizes his mistake," Tompos said. "Now I want to find out why the board would refuse this man a parole in September and three months later would recommend clemency."

If adopted, the interim committee would report its findings to the 1967 legislature.

Sophie Tucker Claimed At 78

NEW YORK (AP) — A half century ago as a favor to her maid, Sophie Tucker sat down and listened to a song written by a porter.

At first she tried to put it off — "They were writing more songs than I had time to listen to" — but she gave in and listened to the tune by Sheldon Brooks.

"I knew that 'Some of These Days' was the song for me," she said. "It has been ever since and always will be."

The people in the cabarets and nightclubs loved it and the song became her trademark. Big, brassy-voiced Sophie Tucker belted out the song at every performance. It didn't matter if she was doing the blues, jazz or swing.

Wednesday night, Miss Tucker, 78, "last of the red-hot mamas," yielded the spotlight after 62 years on stage. She died in her Park Avenue apartment of a chronic lung ailment and kidney failure.

Her last appearance was at the Latin Quarter just before she became ill. She had signed for a four-week engagement, but was able to appear only two nights, and on both nights it was clear that she was in poor health.

She spent several weeks at Mount Sinai Hospital for treatment of what her physician described as an intestinal inflammation. She returned to her apartment where she was reported recovering.

New House Vote Likely

Senate OK Due On GI Measure

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed and sent back to the House today the "cold war GI bill" establishing a permanent program of education and other benefits for veterans who serve more than six months. The vote was 99-0.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate plans today to accept nearly all of the changes made by the House in approving the GI bill.

But one expected Senate change may force another House vote before Congress can give final approval and send to the White House the measure setting up a permanent system of education and home loan benefits for veterans.

Although the measure is more costly than one pushed by President Johnson, he is expected to sign it into law. It would provide assistance to veterans with more than six months military service retroactive to the expiration of previous programs on Jan. 31, 1955.

The legislation comes up for a floor vote after the Senate acts on shutting off a filibuster against the union shop bill.

Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., chief sponsor of the veterans legislation, said he was prepared to go along with the basic framework of the House version.

However, Yarborough said he would insist on an amendment to make clear that the education benefits could be used by veterans who have not graduated from high school.

House experts on the measure said they were confident such veterans were covered. But Yarborough insisted there was doubt and declared that the point must be nailed down.

The World War II and Korean War GI bills did cover veterans who had not finished high school.

The current measure was passed by the Senate 69 to 17 last July.

The House cleared it Monday by a 381-0 vote but cut back the benefits in several categories.

It would provide for education payments ranging from $100 to $150 monthly, depending on the number of dependents. The Senate range was $110 to $165.

$713,225 Budget Fixed For Midland's Operation

Midland Council approved a tentative budget of $713,225.13 during its meeting Wednesday night at the borough building.

It represents an increase of $118,535.18 over last year's $594,689.72.

The higher figure will provide $50,000 for off - street parking and purchase of property, $50,000 for pension benefits for borough employes not covered by the present insurance plan, $10,000 for recreation facilities and $20,000 for a proposed sewage program.

The legislators pointed out that despite the increase when the budget receives final approval a tentative cut of two mills in the real estate tax and a reduction in the wage tax to eight - tenths of 1 per cent also is scheduled to go into effect.

Final action on the budget is expected at the next meeting Feb. 23.

In other business, council approved the request of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. to have the borough fire department assist the plant's force in burning down an old farm house located near the river bank on Crucible's property.

Councilman Joseph Hibbard urged approval of the request, pointing out Crucible provides various services for the fire department. "Even though it means getting rid of an old landmark that was built long before the plant, we should grant this permission in view of possible expansion and progress of the plant for the borough's benefit."

Complaints have reached the mayor's office and Council chambers relative to cars without licenses and proper registration being parked on borough streets for days at a time.

In an effort to alleviate the problem, Council will send a delegation to seek out the owners of such cars and insist they be removed.

Riot Kills 7, Injures 22 In Domingo

Labor, Extremists Threaten Strike Following Violence

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Labor leaders and left-wing extremists threatened a general strike today after seven persons were killed and at least 22 injured in day-long rioting in Santo Domingo.

Leftist labor and political leaders charged the police with brutality in the violence touched off by a Communist-led student demonstration Wednesday. They also renewed demands for the quick removal from the country of armed forces leaders who have failed to obey a presidential order assigning them to diplomatic jobs abroad.

The two leading moderate leftist parties, the Revolutionary Social Christians and Juan Bosch's Dominican Revolutionary party were expected to support a strike. Three previous calls for a general strike collapsed because the two parties failed to support it.

Official sources expressed concern that a successful strike would torpedo negotiations now under way between President Hector Garcia-Godoy and the armed forces leaders on conditions for their departure. No agreement had been reached by Wednesday night, the sources said.

Garcia-Godoy ordered top rebel military leaders and three of the four top men in the armed forces out of the country on Jan. 6 in an effort to ease bitter dissension between the two factions. The rebels have complied.

Wednesday's violence claimed the lives of three students, two civilian bystanders and two policemen. One of the policemen was drenched with gasoline and set afire after being clubbed and stabbed by an angry mob.

A U.S. television cameraman who filmed the incident said he heard the wounded officer groan as flames licked his body.

Authorities said one of the civilian victims, Jacinto Caamano, was a cousin of the former rebel chieftain, Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, who was sent to London as a military attache by Garcia-Godoy.

2 Democratic Senators Give Views

Viet Policy Attacks Seen Encouraging Reds In War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Democratic senators say that attacks on President Johnson's Southeast Asia policies are encouraging the Communists to continue the Viet Nam war.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, said he is convinced that what is keeping North Viet Nam from the negotiations table "is the conviction that we'll tire and quit." He said this belief is being bolstered by senatorial criticism of the President's actions and objectives.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., a Foreign Relations Committee member, said that what he called "the clamor" of the anti-Viet Nam minority "encourages Hanoi and Peking to persist in their aggression, in the mistaken belief that popular resistance to war at home will soon compel the American government to withdraw from Viet Nam."

The two senatorial supporters of the President spoke out in advance of today's scheduled appearance of George Kennan, former ambassador to the Soviet Union and an expert on Communist affairs, before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's inquiry into Viet Nam policies.

Kennan has contended that U. S. involvement in Viet Nam in its present dimensions represents "a grievous disbalance of American policy." He has said it has sacrificed possible improvement in relations with the Soviet Union and put a "deeply regrettable strain" on relations with Japan.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and other policy critics were trying to get together on a possible amendment to a $4.8-billion military authorization bill which might call for presidential restraint in any escalating of the Viet Nam conflict.

Clark told a reporter he may offer a policy rider but added: "I am not prepared to say what its nature is. I have it under consideration with a number of other senators."

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee which approved the bill Wednesday, said he would oppose any policy rider which might be "damaging to the war effort and to the morale of our fighting forces and those of South Viet Nam."

Senate leaders have agreed to take up the bill next Wednesday, after a Lincoln Day vacation.

Declines Cloture Again

Union Shop Bill Killed By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate declined again today to choke off the filibuster against the union shop bill and thus apparently killed the measure for this Congress.

The vote on the Democratic leadership's attempt to apply a debate-limiting cloture rule was 50-49.

On Tuesday the Senate had rejected cloture by a 51-48 tally, 15 less than the required two-thirds.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said that with his failure on the second test he was putting aside the bitterly disputed legislation for the remainder of the 1965 session.

He said it would remain on the senate calendar but "with the words R.I.P. (rest in peace) beside it."

The bill could be called up again later but even its hardiest backers saw little or no chance of success.

The House, responding to strong administration endorsement, passed the bill to repeal Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act last year.

But Senate Democratic leaders now have tried twice to get the bill up for debate and never have been able even to win a vote on the preliminary motion to consider it.

The Senate outcome represented a defeat for President Johnson and even more for the AFL-CIO, which had placed the repealer at the top of its legislative program. The 14B section permits states to ban labor contracts which require all covered workers to join the union or at least pay dues.

Mansfield first sought to get consideration for the measure last October after it had won 221-203 approval from the House.

But then, as now, a tightly knit filibuster prevented even a vote on the preliminary motion to bring the bill before the Senate.

The filibusters were directed by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and joined by most Republicans and some Southern Democrats.

Stassen Due Pennsylvania Governor Bid

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harold E. Stassen, who twice failed to win the Republican nomination for president, said today he will seek his party nomination for governor of Pennsylvania.

The 57-year-old Stassen told a news conference that he intends to campaign on the issue of "bringing peace in Viet Nam."

"President Johnson made a terrible mistake when he turned the Vietnamese war into an American war," Stassen said.

"Raymond Shafer is wrong to go along weakly with President Johnson's action."

Shafer, lieutenant governor, is the Republican organization's choice for the gubernatorial nomination. He was the support of Gov. Scranton and all the GOP state leaders.

Stassen, now a Philadelphia lawyer, unsuccessfully sought the Republican nomination for governor in 1958. He was defeated by Arthur T. Mc Gonigle, a Reading businessman. He ran as the GOP candidate for mayor in 1959, but was soundly beaten by Democrat Richardson Dilworth.

Stassen sought the presidential nomination in 1948 and 1964. His name was mentioned in two other presidential elective years.

Pneumonia Proves Fatal

Billy Rose, 66, Claimed; Noted Theatrical Figure

MONTEGO BAY, Jamaica (AP) — Billy Rose, the master showman who made a fortune out of the unlikely combination of extravaganza, curvaceous girls and the stock market, died today in Montego Bay.

Rose, 66, died of lobar pneumonia at the Eldmire Nursing Home.

He had come to Montego Bay, where he maintains a winter home, to recuperate from cardio-vascular surgery performed in Houston, Tex., in December.

Rose, an impresario, theatrical producer, newspaper columnist, nightclub owner and writer of such songs as "That Old Gang of Mine," "Without a Song," "Me and My Shadow," returned to his New York home Dec. 22.

He flew to Montego Bay Tuesday with his sister, Polly Gottlieb, wife of Hollywood producer and writer Alex Gottlieb. Doctors had prescribed a six-weeks recuperation.

In New York, a close friend, Broadway producer Arthur Cantor said, "one of the reasons Billy went to Jamaica was because he was feeling better."

Gottlieb said in Beverly Hills, Calif., that his wife had called him and said Rose had caught a slight cold two days ago and developed pneumonia Wednesday.

Mrs. Gottlieb was planning to accompany the body to New York today, where funeral arrangements will be completed.

Surviving besides Mrs. Gottlieb is another sister, Miriam Stern of New York City.

Death of the flamboyant figure came just hours after the death of another show business personality, Sophie Tucker. She died Wednesday in her New York apartment.

The 5-foot-3 Rose scrambled out of the Manhattan slums and at the time of his death was worth more than $25 million. He once jested that "if my luck holds out by 1970 I will really be a rich fellow."

He made his first million three months after the 1939 New York World's Fair opened. His "Aquacade" was the hit of the fair and its star, Eleanor Holm, became one of his four wives. He was actually married five times, but he married one wife, Joyce Matthews, twice.

Council OK's Pay Increase At Wellsville

Final Action Taken On Salary Hike For Police And Firemen

Legislation granting 10 per cent salary increases to members of the police and fire departments was adopted by Wellsville Council at a special meeting Wednesday night.

Council also approved two paid holidays to members of the departments.

Under the new salary scale, the chief of each department will receive $429 a month, with regular patrolmen and firemen receiving $392.70 per month. The police captain and the assistant fire chief each will receive $407.

The monthly pay for employes of the departments with less than two but more than one year's service will be $374.85. The monthly pay for members with less than a year's service will be $357. The last two figures amount to a 5 per cent increase.

The old pay scale was $390 for the chiefs, $370 for the captain and assistant chief and $357 for regulars.

The legislation is retroactive to Jan. 1. An employe shall be considered to have completed two years service starting the day after the second yearly anniversary of the date of his appointment, the legislators said.

Christmas Day and the Fourth of July were stipulated as paid holidays under the second ordinance. Any member who does not work on these holidays will be paid, while those who do work shall receive an extra full day in addition to the regular pay.

Members of the police and fire departments were bypassed when salary increases were giv-

Lisbon St. Job Aired In Columbus Meeting

The project moved a step nearer reality Monday night when Council approved legislation authorizing the administration to hire an engineer to draw up detailed plans and specifications for the work.

The job calls for partial relocation of the hill stretch of the highway in order to ease or eliminate sharp curves.

Chesney Stresses Business Aspect In Meeting At Lisbon

A site for an airport will be selected March 2 by the Columbiana County Airport Authority.

The date was set Wednesday night during a meeting of the authority in the commissioners' office at Lisbon.

An open meeting is planned at the March session.

Charles Chesney of Columbiana, vice chairman of the authority, spoke during last night's meeting, declaring that "community spirit" will have to pave the way toward the establishment of the airport.

In a presentation that included graphs, he emphasized that airports mean business to a county and stressed that has been the moving force behind the authority's program.

Although his talk centered largely around the Orchard Hill site, near Leetonia, Chesney suggested that the authority hold onto both Swaney Field, near here, and the site near Leetonia. He displayed mounted photographs of both sites, with red lines superimposed to show possible runway areas.

Stressing the business aspect, Chesney said there is one twin-engine plane registered in the county to the Summitville Tiles Co. He pointed out that Summitville Tiles has been supporting the Carroll County airport. He also presented other facts on airplane registration in nearby counties.

Chesney declared Columbiana County is playing "a game of checkers" with Mahoning County, which plans to construct an airport in the southern end of that county. He cautioned Columbiana must work fast to capture the additional business that could result from being first.

"An airport is not just a place for airplanes, but in this county it means opening up the world," Chesney stated.

In other action, the board unanimously approved a motion by Vaughan McMorrow of Wellsville and seconded by Paul Dailey of East Liverpool that a quorum of five members be allowed to act as the authority at all regularly - scheduled meetings.

John Ursu, county engineer who was scheduled to draw a center line on the Swaney site, said he had been prevented from doing so because of the recent heavy snow. He pointed out that the cost of the Swaney site may be more than anticipated because there may have to be some trees removed from nearby property or other possible changes to adjoining property.

J. Warren Bettis, McMorrow and James Boyd were named to form a committee to prepare a list of bylaws, rules and regu-

Arraignment was postponed this morning for Chester Ice Jr., 28, of 2212 Ohio Ave., indicted by the Columbiana County grand jury on a charge of manslaughter in the first degree.

He was assigned legal counsel by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon.

Ice was indicted Tuesday afternoon in the fist-fight death last Saturday night of Charles J. Adams, 29, of Harvey Ave.

Ice was freed on $3,000 bond Wednesday.

The earliest possible date he now can be arraigned is Feb. 14, since the Courthouse will be closed Friday and Saturday in observance of Lincoln's birthday.

2 Democratic Senators Give Views

Viet Policy Attacks Seen Encouraging Reds In War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Democratic senators say that attacks on President Johnson's Southeast Asia policies are encouraging the Communists to continue the Viet Nam war.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, said he is convinced that what is keeping North Viet Nam from the negotiations table "is the conviction that we'll tire and quit." He said this belief is being bolstered by senatorial criticism of the President's actions and objectives.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., a Foreign Relations Committee member, said that what he called "the clamor" of the anti-Viet Nam minority "encourages Hanoi and Peking to persist in their aggression, in the mistaken belief that popular resistance to war at home will soon compel the American government to withdraw from Viet Nam."

The two senatorial supporters of the President spoke out in advance of today's scheduled appearance of George Kennan, former ambassador to the Soviet Union and an expert on Communist affairs, before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's inquiry into Viet Nam policies.

Kennan has contended that U. S. involvement in Viet Nam in its present dimensions represents "a grievous disbalance of American policy." He has said it has sacrificed possible improvement in relations with the Soviet Union and put a "deeply regrettable strain" on relations with Japan.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and other policy critics were trying to get together on a possible amendment to a $4.8-billion military authorization bill which might call for presidential restraint in any escalating of the Viet Nam conflict.

Clark told a reporter he may offer a policy rider but added: "I am not prepared to say what its nature is. I have it under consideration with a number of other senators."

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee which approved the bill Wednesday, said he would oppose any policy rider which might be "damaging to the war effort and to the morale of our fighting forces and those of South Viet Nam."

Senate leaders have agreed to take up the bill next Wednesday, after a Lincoln Day vacation.

Declines Cloture Again

Union Shop Bill Killed By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate declined again today to choke off the filibuster against the union shop bill and thus apparently killed the measure for this Congress.

The vote on the Democratic leadership's attempt to apply a debate-limiting cloture rule was 50-49.

On Tuesday the Senate had rejected cloture by a 51-48 tally, 15 less than the required two-thirds.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said that with his failure on the second test he was putting aside the bitterly disputed legislation for the remainder of the 1965 session.

He said it would remain on the senate calendar but "with the words R.I.P. (rest in peace) beside it."

The bill could be called up again later but even its hardiest backers saw little or no chance of success.

The House, responding to strong administration endorsement, passed the bill to repeal Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act last year.

But Senate Democratic leaders now have tried twice to get the bill up for debate and never have been able even to win a vote on the preliminary motion to consider it.

The Senate outcome represented a defeat for President Johnson and even more for the AFL-CIO, which had placed the repealer at the top of its legislative program. The 14B section permits states to ban labor contracts which require all covered workers to join the union or at least pay dues.

Mansfield first sought to get consideration for the measure last October after it had won 221-203 approval from the House.

But then, as now, a tightly knit filibuster prevented even a vote on the preliminary motion to bring the bill before the Senate.

The filibusters were directed by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and joined by most Republicans and some Southern Democrats.

Stassen Due Pennsylvania Governor Bid

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harold E. Stassen, who twice failed to win the Republican nomination for president, said today he will seek his party nomination for governor of Pennsylvania.

The 57-year-old Stassen told a news conference that he intends to campaign on the issue of "bringing peace in Viet Nam."

"President Johnson made a terrible mistake when he turned the Vietnamese war into an American war," Stassen said.

"Raymond Shafer is wrong to go along weakly with President Johnson's action."

Shafer, lieutenant governor, is the Republican organization's choice for the gubernatorial nomination. He was the support of Gov. Scranton and all the GOP state leaders.

Stassen, now a Philadelphia lawyer, unsuccessfully sought the Republican nomination for governor in 1958. He was defeated by Arthur T. Mc Gonigle, a Reading businessman. He ran as the GOP candidate for mayor in 1959, but was soundly beaten by Democrat Richardson Dilworth.

Stassen sought the presidential nomination in 1948 and 1964. His name was mentioned in two other presidential elective years.

Pneumonia Proves Fatal

Billy Rose, 66, Claimed: Noted Theatrical Figure

MONTEGO BAY, Jamaica (AP) — Billy Rose, the master showman who made a fortune out of the unlikely combination of extravaganza, curvaceous girls and the stock market, died today in Montego Bay.

Rose, 66, died of lobar pneumonia at the Eldmire Nursing Home.

He had come to Montego Bay, where he maintains a winter home, to recuperate from cardio-vascular surgery performed in Houston, Tex., in December.

Rose, an impresario, theatrical producer, newspaper columnist, nightclub owner and writer of such songs as "That Old Gang of Mine," "Without a Song," "Me and My Shadow," returned to his New York home Dec. 22.

He flew to Montego Bay Tuesday with his sister, Polly Gottlieb, wife of Hollywood producer and writer Alex Gottlieb. Doctors had prescribed a six-weeks recuperation.

In New York, a close friend, Broadway producer Arthur Cantor said, "one of the reasons Billy went to Jamaica was because he was feeling better."

Gottlieb said in Beverly Hills, Calif., that his wife had called him and said Rose had caught a slight cold two days ago and developed pneumonia Wednesday.

Mrs. Gottlieb was planning to accompany the body to New York today, where funeral arrangements will be completed.

Surviving besides Mrs. Gottlieb is another sister, Miriam Stern of New York City.

Death of the flamboyant figure came just hours after the death of another show business personality, Sophie Tucker. She died Wednesday in her New York apartment.

The 5-foot-3 Rose scrambled out of the Manhattan slums and at the time of his death was worth more than $25 million. He once jested that "if my luck holds out by 1970 I will really be a rich fellow."

He made his first million three months after the 1939 New York World's Fair opened. His "Aquacade" was the hit of the fair and its star, Eleanor Holm, became one of his four wives. He was actually married five times, but he married one wife, Joyce Matthews, twice.

Final Action To Be Taken On Project

Chesney Stresses Business Aspect In Meeting At Lisbon

A site for an airport will be selected March 2 by the Columbiana County Airport Authority.

The date was set Wednesday night during a meeting of the authority in the commissioners' office at Lisbon.

An open meeting is planned at the March session.

Charles Chesney of Columbiana, vice chairman of the authority, spoke during last night's meeting, declaring that "community spirit" will have to pave the way toward the establishment of the airport.

In a presentation that included graphs, he emphasized that airports mean business to a county and stressed that has been the moving force behind the authority's program.

Although his talk centered largely around the Orchard Hill site, near Leetonia, Chesney suggested that the authority hold onto both Swaney Field, near here, and the site near Leetonia. He displayed mounted photographs of both sites, with red lines superimposed to show possible runway areas.

Stressing the business aspect, Chesney said there is one twin-engine plane registered in the county to the Summitville Tiles Co. He pointed out that Summitville Tiles has been supporting the Carroll County airport. He also presented other facts on airplane registration in nearby counties.

Chesney declared Columbiana County is playing "a game of checkers" with Mahoning County, which plans to construct an airport in the southern end of that county. He cautioned Columbiana must work fast to capture the additional business that could result from being first.

"An airport is not just a place for airplanes, but in this county it means opening up the world," Chesney stated.

In other action, the board unanimously approved a motion by Vaughan McMorrow of Wellsville and seconded by Paul Dailey of East Liverpool that a quorum of five members be allowed to act as the authority at all regularly - scheduled meetings.

John Ursu, county engineer who was scheduled to draw a center line on the Swaney site, said he had been prevented from doing so because of the recent heavy snow. He pointed out that the cost of the Swaney site may be more than anticipated because there may have to be some trees removed from nearby property or other possible changes to adjoining property.

J. Warren Bettis, McMorrow and James Boyd were named to form a committee to prepare a list of bylaws, rules and regu-

Council OK's Pay Increase At Wellsville

Final Action Taken On Salary Hike For Police And Firemen

Legislation granting 10 per cent salary increases to members of the police and fire departments was adopted by Wellsville Council at a special meeting Wednesday night.

Council also approved two paid holidays to members of the departments.

Under the new salary scale, the chief of each department will receive $429 a month, with regular patrolmen and firemen receiving $392.70 per month. The police captain and the assistant fire chief each will receive $407.

The monthly pay for employes of the departments with less than two but more than one year's service will be $374.85. The monthly pay for members with less than a year's service will be $357. The last two figures amount to a 5 per cent increase.

The old pay scale was $390 for the chiefs, $370 for the captain and assistant chief and $357 for regulars.

The legislation is retroactive to Jan. 1. An employe shall be considered to have completed two years service starting the day after the second yearly anniversary of the date of his appointment, the legislators said.

Christmas Day and the Fourth of July were stipulated as paid holidays under the second ordinance. Any member who does not work on these holidays will be paid, while those who do work shall receive an extra full day in addition to the regular pay.

Members of the police and fire departments were bypassed when salary increases were giv

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey and Engineer George S. Bloomgren are in Columbus today to confer with State Highway Department officials on a $269,000 project for improvement of Lisbon St. between W. 8th St. and the city limits.

The project moved a step nearer reality Monday night when Council approved legislation authorizing the administration to hire an engineer to draw up detailed plans and specifications for the work.

The job calls for partial relocation of the hill stretch of the highway in order to ease or eliminate sharp curves.

Arraignment Delayed For Ice In Death Case

Arraignment was postponed this morning for Chester Ice Jr., 28, of 2212 Ohio Ave., indicted by the Columbiana County grand jury on a charge of manslaughter in the first degree.

He was assigned legal counsel by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon.

Ice was indicted Tuesday afternoon in the fist-fight death last Saturday night of Charles J. Adams, 29, of Harvey Ave.

Ice was freed on $3,000 bond Wednesday.

Willie, who suffered a stroke last year, receives regular treatments through the stroke rehabilitation program sponsored by the association.

When a patient at East Liverpool City Hospital last October, he attracted the attention of visiting student nurses from the Hanna Mullins School of Practical Nursing in Salem, when it was learned that neither hospitalization insurance nor county agencies were able to procure a prescribed brace for him.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff lectured the youth as the case ended, asserting the evidence made it appear Jackson was "harassing" the proprietors of the youth center because he had been barred as over age. Mrs. Krafft testified that the age range is 12-18.

Mrs. Krafft said she filed the affidavit as a result of remarks which Jackson allegedly made to her while he stood with a group of youths outside the center. She said he "pounded on the telephone booth" when she was summoning police.

The Future Of Hubert Humphrey

Anyone not bemused, befuddled and bewildered by Vice President Humphrey's buckity-buckity assignment in South Viet Nam has to be kidding.

This is a double-pronged puzzler.

President Johnson's sudden decision to go to Hawaii to talk with South Viet Nam officials was puzzling enough without adding the mystery of sending the second-ranking official of the U.S. government to a foreign country to take care of its political, social and economic welfare.

The United States didn't even do this when it was protecting the sovereignty of South Korea against hostile Asiatic hordes. What it amounts to on the face of it is that the current government of South Viet Nam has been told to move over and make room for a partner.

The United States has been accused with good reason of interference in South Viet Nam's affairs. But sending Vice President Humphrey to Saigon to look after things on this broad a spectrum is more than interference. This is no cloak-and-dagger CIA affair. This is outright intervention.

It will destroy what little was left of the figment that the United States was in South Viet Nam to save the Republic of Viet Nam. The United States is there to stop North Viet Nam, which calls itself a "democratic republic," from taking over the whole country.

It is there because hostile forces are trying to push it out.

Can Hubert Humphrey save the Republic of Viet Nam?

Is this proper work for the vice president of the United States? If he succeeds, what will he do for an encore? Will he become vice president of the United States in charge of Asia?

One Thing Or The Other

It finally is plain for all to see—even the knot-hole spectators stealing a free look from outside the park—that the see-saw contest between inflation and deflation goes on forever.

This week a symposium sponsored by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce is at bat. It is worrying about inflation. But remember last December when the Johnson administration was worrying about deflation, after the Federal Reserve Board raised the discount rate?

If it isn't one thing, it's the other.

The national economy always is too hot or too cold.

It never is just right. There never is a condition that lulls all the worry warts, the gloomers and doomers and the nervous Nellies to sleep. They are forever moaning and grousing about the imminent disaster that is going to overtake the United States.

We are either overproducing or underconsuming. We are letting prices rise too fast or they are falling too fast.

We're flirting with a shortage of skilled labor or an oversupply.

Money is circulating too fast or not fast enough.

There's too much credit or not enough credit.

In 10 long lifetimes laid end to end there would be no time when the senior sages would say, "There, now this is just right. All we need to do is hold everything right where it is. At last, conditions are perfect—not too much, not too little, just enough."

Communism's Ugliest Face

Just when it seems remotely possible the Russian Communists may be getting "housebroken," as Franklin D. Roosevelt once phrased it, Communists show their ugliest face again.

In this instance, the face may be ugly enough to make even the Kremlin wince. It is a deal by East German Communists to sell 2,600 political prisoners to West Germany. The ransom will be $10,000 a prisoner, which will be paid in such commodities as butter, coffee, citrus fruits and fertilizer.

The same kind of deal was worked out between Cuban Communists and the United States for the release of Cuban exiles captured during the Bay of Pigs fiasco. The ransom was paid in medical supplies.

Even Russia, which gives thought occasionally to improving Communism's image, is not above kidnaping people who wander across its borders inadvertently. Any civilized society would make it a rule to give lodging to lost strangers and set them on the right path the next morning, but the Soviet Union has not attained that level.

Small wonder its satellites think nothing of holding victims for ransom. Communism has no uglier face than this—a face so ugly it suggets barbarianism, which has nothing to do with ideologies.

He Stirred The People

By Truman Twill

It is time again for penance to the memory of Abraham Lincoln.

While bitter-end fellow citizens still wave flags of rebellion and their apologists in Congress and Southern bar associations still deny that the Rebels lost the Civil War, the rest of us continue our timeless project of making it up to a martyred president for the misbehavior of his countrymen.

When Mr. Lincoln was running for re-election in 1864, the same jut-jawed leaders of the nation who had tried to cut his throat in the first election went back to work with renewed savagery.

His worst enemies were inside his own party. He knew what to expect from the Democrats, who openly were asking for his life. But this tragic human sacrifice to the violence of the republic he was striving to save never was reconciled to the savagery of his own fellow Republicans.

When the time came for him to lead them into a second presidential campaign, they were busier knifing him in the back than staging a frontal assault on the Democrats. Even after Mr. Lincoln had won renomination, a movement stirred in Republican ranks to replace him with a "more vigorous leader" and force his withdrawal.

The grossly over-rated Horace Greeley, whose lack of political common sense never restrained his desire to pop off, said Lincoln was sure to be beaten. Some of the presumably peerless leaders of the day used dirtier words for Abraham Lincoln than they ever used for Jefferson Davis. They said he was an "imbecile."

Though the election would show that the people's sentiment had not been distorted by such vilification, the great man himself had made up his mind that George McClellan, the general he had fired and converted into a hot prospect for the desperate Democrats, would win.

The people's sentiment . . .

The people were solidly for Abraham Lincoln and against the political cannibals who were trying to get rid of him. Perhaps the cannibals knew this. That may have been why the movers and shakers wanted to put him out of commission. He was never under their thumb. He was under the sway of the people. He trusted the people, not their leaders. Everything, he said, everything he did in his sad lifetime stemmed from abiding faith in ordinary human beings, though he himself was one of the most extraordinary human beings who ever lived.

It had happened that way some 1,800-odd years before.

Then, too, a man who wanted to save his fellow men because He loved them was marked for destruction by those who thought themselves superior to Him.

He had committed a great crime, they said. He had stirred up the people, to the disconfiture of those who then and in 1894 had only contempt for the masses of their fellow men.

When we pay our annual penance to Abraham Lincoln each February we are mindful of what happened at Golgotha.

Perhaps Abraham Lincoln thought of it, too, when he died that tragic night of April 14, 1865.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

During the recent big snow, the radio was rattling off lists of meetings canceled because of the bad driving.

A chronic weather worrier who turns white at the first flake of snow looked into the future and said, "Well, I guess I can't get to the Valentine Ball, the St. Patrick's Day party and if this keeps up I won't go to church on Easter and maybe I'll even have to miss that Fourth of July picnic."

I've been trying to think of reasons why Franklin Roosevelt, a wealthy Ivy League type, would choose "New Deal" as the motto for his administration. Was he a card player, and if so what kind of people did he play with?

Then there was Truman's "Fair Deal," a continuation of the "New Deal." That fitted Truman better because he played poker. Didn't he?

Young Kennedy then came along with the "New Frontier," which may have appealed to him because he, too, was a wealthy Ivy League type and the "frontier" sounded like adventure, besides stimulating voter activity.

It is only natural that Lyndon Johnson, a Texas boy, would set the "Great Society" as his goal. Everything in Texas is "great" and Johnson has long since climbed into "society."

One thing the Vatican Council didn't figure on when it encouraged the use of English in place of Latin in Masses was that Catholic pupils in public schools would lose a little edge they had over Protestants in the study of Latin.

You may be interested in this quote from Thomas Moore (1780-1852): "The minds of some of our statesmen, like the pupil of the human eye, contract themselves the more, the stronger light there is shed upon them."

Juvenile delinquency has been a lively topic of discussion since Adam was 13 years old.

A friend sent me this news item which he ran across while looking through our local newspaper of 1853: "A bill has been introduced in the New York Legislature to check the increasing evil of juvenile delinquency and parental neglect. It provides that the parents or guardian of any child found wandering in the streets shall be compelled to come under bond to keep the child on his own premises or at some lawful occupation and for four months of the year shall send him to a public school."

Trust that you took advantage of the snow to have some fun playing fox and geese and making angels.

You may have forgotten that the trick in making an angel on the snow is to fall backward so there are no foot prints messing up the imprint, then waving your arms to make the wings and spreading and unspreading your legs to make the lower part of the gown.

You might as well get what fun you can out of the snow.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Quite A Feat!

Why Are The Liberals So Silent?

By David Lawrence

What happened to liberalism in America? The principle that an individual must be permitted freedom of speech, freedom of belief and freedom of association has been affirmed again and again by the Supreme Court of the United States and has been the basis for many a demonstration in public places. Liberalism has been a staunch champion of such individual rights.

David Lawrence

Today, when a majority in both houses of Congress seeks to compel a person to join a union as the price of a job in America, there is hardly a voice of protest from the liberal side.

Nineteen states now forbid any compulsory unionization. The purpose of the bill before Congress is to nullify such laws and prohibit all the states of the Union hereafter from passing any laws forbidding compulsory unionization.

Passage of the proposed legislation by Congress has been temporarily blocked. This was done not by a majority but by a minority which has managed by means of filibustering tactics in the Senate to prolong the debate and prevent an actual vote that could enact the proposal into law.

There were on Tuesday 51 Senators in favor of forcing an end to the debate and 38 against. Since a two-thirds vote is required to cut off debate, there were 15 less votes than such a majority. Nearly all the liberals voted to impose "gab" rule.

WHY HAVE NOT the liberals spoken out on the other side of this issue? There have been a few liberal newspapers which have taken up the cudgels in behalf of freedom of association and the right of an individual to work where he pleases without compulsion from any organization, but scarcely any of the liberal group in Congress is to be found upholding this freedom to work.

Expediency may be the reason why many of the liberals are going along with the labor-union strategy, for on various occasions liberal causes have been supported by labor unions.

President Johnson himself was vehemently opposed to compulsory unionization when he was a senator, but he has changed. Today he feels the pressure of labor-unions whose political support he has been receiving and apparently does not wish to lose. The consensus in Washington is that his heart isn't in the fight and that he knows compulsory unionization is wrong.

The controversy waged in Congress had had some interesting side effects. Many people throughout the country have learned for the first time that compulsory unionization is being seriously considered. They are beginning to realize that if the law passes, workers must join a union or lose their jobs whenever a majority of the employes in a factory and the employer privately agree to make such an arrangement.

THE LABOR UNIONS, of course, insist upon an all-union shop because they believe it will increase financial support through membership dues.

What seems so strange today is that the liberal groups are quick to champion the right of an individual to decide for himself whether to join or not to join other organizations.

A tremendous amount of time and money, for instance, has been spent by the liberals to fight legislation that might restrict Communist activities in the United States. The theory is that an individual has a right to believe in communism and join organizations advocating it. Countless arguments have been made by liberals defending the right of free speech and free assembly in other controversies involving such rights.

In view of this long record of liberal championship of freedom of association, the big mystery is why hardly a voice has been raised against legislation which would permit compulsory unionization.

THE PROPOSAL is itself a form of discrimination which, if it had had any remote connection with racial problems or religious beliefs, would long ago have aroused the intensive opposition of the liberals.

So the unanswered questions of the hour are: "What's wrong with most of the liberals now? Why do they not raise their voices in protest since a majority of both houses of Congress is plainly in favor of compelling a man to join an organization in which he does not believe?"

Grin And Bear It

"The military is doing a great transportation job, boys! . . . Our junket to Southeast Asia was over a hundred strong with everyone having a plane seat."

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

After reading a report in The Review on Feb. 5, Page 11, I became very interested in the program of "War on Poverty."

One paragraph states the following: "In other action, the committee approved an application from the Wellsville board of education for funds to sponsor a "Head Start" program for the second year. The program is designed to orient and aid pre-school children."

I cannot see here where money allotted for "War on Poverty" could be spent on an educational program. Surely Wellsville schools are able to support a school classed as kindergarten and I don't believe citizens of Wellsville would want their schools to be classed as poverty stricken. Which if they accept this money would go on the records as such.

In the larger cities, perhaps there are slum localities and places where the salaries are very low where the "War on Poverty" is really necessary. But I do not believe such things exist in our community. With unemployment checks and Social Security it seems that most people are doing very well. I think "War on Poverty" would include, trying to get new jobs, creating new industries, not just giving money to different projects.

THERE IS one class of people who do need help. These are physical handicapped who are not old enough to receive Social Security and whose state aid is so very small that without help from relatives it would be impossible for them to live, and by relatives helping, they are taking from their own children.

For example, a widow on crutches, who has no children, receives $50 a month if she lives in her own home. Her home has no modern plumbing, no water pipes, no bath room, no furnace. How can any one pay taxes, property insurance, life insurance, gas, electric, coal, clothes, food on $50 per month? If she shares her home with some one of the same circumstances her pension is then reduced. If she tries to earn money in her own home such as baking and would profit $40 a month, then $30 is deducted from her pension, making her only $10 for all her labor for the month. People are hired to call on these people to be sure they have no boarders or income. They are treated almost as if they had committed a crime and are on probation. I think when it is proven they are handicapped, that should be it. There should be less money spent on checking pensioners and more given to the handicapped.

Another widow, only in her forties, but so crippled that she never leaves the house, lives with her mother because of this. She receives $16 a month to pay her room and board, pay insurance, medicine, buy clothing. Could you do this?

I believe the "War on Poverty" in our community should begin with our handicapped citizens who would be glad to work if there was something they could do.

PERHAPS THERE could even be some business started with money, and then the business, with good management turn out to be profit-making and carry itself in later years. These people do not want charity, but would like to be treated as if they were human beings.

There are many educated widows who I believe would be glad to help without salary in the "War on Poverty", such as they helped the Red Cross.

I feel this money should be budgeted, and very carefully spent, and a monthly report on the work be published regularly. This is the taxpayers' money.

I am very interested in this "War on Poverty". Volunteers should be asked for. Let's not make this a five-member staff, but make it a county-community staff.

MILDRED M. JOHNSTON
120 W. 4th St.

In an effort to clarify some of the points raised in the above letter, we asked Fred G. Simmen of Oakmont, president of the Columbiana County Community Action Committee, for comment. His remarks follow.

"Project (Head Start) is only one of the many potential applications of the Economic Opportunity Act.

"Head Start is aimed at bringing children of homes where the level of education is low up to a readiness for school equal to those children of more educated parents.

"The Wellsville school system has demonstrated high initiative in utilizing this program locally, but many other different applications of the Economic Opportunity Act are possible and will be implemented in the coming months.

"The situation of the handicapped covered in Mildred Johnston's letter is certainly deplorable in this age of the "Great Society" but to my knowledge this area is not covered under the EOA. It shall be investigated in detail, however.

"The major aim of the act is not to dole out money for the people in economic distress, but to provide opportunity (income and training), sort of self-help through the stimulus of federal funds on a 90-to-10 ratio to local money.

"The emphasis is generally on young adults and children where the potential exists to develop into self-sustaining, tax-paying citizens rather than drift into life times on welfare roles."

Even after Mr. Lincoln had won renomination, a movement stirred in Republican ranks to replace him with a "more vigorous leader" and force his withdrawal.

The grossly over-rated Horace Greeley, whose lack of political common sense never restrained his desire to pop off, said Lincoln was sure to be beaten. Some of the presumably peerless leaders of the day used dirtier words for Abraham Lincoln than they ever used for Jefferson Davis. They said he was an "imbecile."

Though the election would show that the people's sentiment had not been distorted by such vilification, the great man himself had made up his mind that George McClellan, the general he had fired and converted into a hot prospect for the desperate Democrats, would win.

The people's sentiment . . .

The people were solidly for Abraham Lincoln and against the political cannibals who were trying to get rid of him. Perhaps the cannibals knew this. That may have been why the movers and shakers wanted to put him out of commission. He was never under their thumb. He was under the sway of the people. He trusted the people, not their leaders. Everything, he said, everything he did in his sad lifetime stemmed from abiding faith in ordinary human beings, though he himself was one of the most extraordinary human beings who ever lived.

It had happened that way some 1,800-odd years before.

Then, too, a man who wanted to save his fellow men because He loved them was marked for destruction by those who thought themselves superior to Him.

He had committed a great crime, they said. He had stirred up the people, to the discomfiture of those who then and in 1894 had only contempt for the masses of their fellow men.

When we pay our annual penance to Abraham Lincoln each February we are mindful of what happened at Golgotha.

Perhaps Abraham Lincoln thought of it, too, when he died that tragic night of April 14, 1865.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

During the recent big snow, the radio was rattling off lists of meetings canceled because of the bad driving.

A chronic weather worrier who turns white at the first flake of snow looked into the future and said, "Well, I guess I can't get to the Valentine Ball, the St. Patrick's Day party and if this keeps up I won't go to church on Easter and maybe I'll even have to miss that Fourth of July picnic."

I've been trying to think of reasons why Franklin Roosevelt, a wealthy Ivy League type, would choose "New Deal" as the motto for his administration. Was he a card player, and if so what kind of people did he play with?

Then there was Truman's "Fair Deal," a continuation of the "New Deal." That fitted Truman better because he played poker. Didn't he?

Young Kennedy then came along with the "New Frontier," which may have appealed to him because he, too, was a wealthy Ivy League type and the "frontier" sounded like adventure, besides stimulating voter activity.

It is only natural that Lyndon Johnson, a Texas boy, would set the "Great Society" as his goal. Everything in Texas is "great" and Johnson has long since climbed into "society."

One thing the Vatican Council didn't figure on when it encouraged the use of English in place of Latin in Masses was that Catholic pupils in public schools would lose a little edge they had over Protestants in the study of Latin.

You may be interested in this quote from Thomas Moore (1780-1852): "The minds of some of our statesmen, like the pupil of the human eye, contract themselves the more, the stronger light there is shed upon them."

Juvenile delinquency has been a lively topic of discussion since Adam was 13 years old.

A friend sent me this news item which he ran across while looking through our local newspaper of 1853: "A bill has been introduced in the New York Legislature to check the increasing evil of juvenile delinquency and parental neglect. It provides that the parents or guardian of any child found wandering in the streets shall be compelled to come under bond to keep the child on his own premises or at some lawful occupation and for four months of the year shall send him to a public school."

Trust that you took advantage of the snow to have some fun playing fox and geese and making angels.

You may have forgotten that the trick in making an angel on the snow is to fall backward so there are no foot prints messing up the imprint, then waving your arms to make the wings and spreading and unspreading your legs to make the lower part of the gown.

You might as well get what fun you can out of the snow.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Quite A Feat!

Why Are The Liberals So Silent?

By David Lawrence

What' happened to liberalism in America? The principle that an individual must be permitted freedom of speech, freedom of belief and freedom of association has been affirmed again and again by the Supreme Court of the United States and has been the basis for many a demonstration in public places. Liberalism has been a staunch champion of such individual rights.

David Lawrence

Today, when a majority in both houses of Congress seeks to compel a person to join a union as the price of a job in America, there is hardly a voice of protest from the liberal side.

Nineteen states now forbid any compulsory unionization. The purpose of the bill before Congress is to nullify such laws and prohibit all the states of the Union hereafter from passing any laws forbidding compulsory unionization.

Passage of the proposed legislation by Congress has been temporarily blocked. This was done not by a majority but by a minority which has managed by means of filibustering tactics in the Senate to prolong the debate and prevent an actual vote that could enact the proposal into law.

There were on Tuesday 51 Senators in favor of forcing an end to the debate and 38 against. Since a two-thirds vote is required to cut off debate, there were 15 less votes than such a majority. Nearly all the liberals voted to impose "gab" rule.

WHY HAVE NOT the liberals spoken out on the other side of this issue? There have been a few liberal newspapers which have taken up the cudgels in behalf of freedom of association and the right of an individual to work where he pleases without compulsion from any organization, but scarcely any of the liberal group in Congress is to be found upholding this freedom to work.

Expediency may be the reason why many of the liberals are going along with the labor-union strategy, for on various occasions liberal causes have been supported by labor unions.

President Johnson himself was vehemently opposed to compulsory unionization when he was a senator, but he has changed. Today he feels the pressure of labor-unions whose political support he has been receiving and apparently does not wish to lose. The consensus in Washington is that his heart isn't in the fight and that he knows compulsory unionization is wrong.

The controversy waged in Congress had had some interesting side effects. Many people throughout the country have learned for the first time that compulsory unionization is being seriously considered. They are beginning to realize that if the law passes, workers must join a union or lose their jobs whenever a majority of the employes in a factory and the employer privately agree to make such an arrangement.

THE LABOR UNIONS, of course, insist upon an all-union shop because they believe it will increase financial support through membership dues.

What seems so strange today is that the liberal groups are quick to champion the right of an individual to decide for himself whether to join or not to join other organizations.

A tremendous amount of time and money, for instance, has been spent by the liberals to fight legislation that might restrict Communist activities in the United States. The theory is that an individual has a right to believe in communism and join organizations advocating it. Countless arguments have been made by liberals defending the right of free speech and free assembly in other controversies involving such rights.

In view of this long record of liberal championship of freedom of association, the big mystery is why hardly a voice has been raised against legislation which would permit compulsory unionization.

THE PROPOSAL is itself a form of discrimination which, if it had had any remote connection with racial problems or religious beliefs, would long ago have aroused the intensive opposition of the liberals.

So the unanswered questions of the hour are: "What's wrong with most of the liberals now? Why do they not raise their voices in protest since a majority of both houses of Congress is plainly in favor of compelling a man to join an organization in which he does not believe?"

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

After reading a report in The Review on Feb. 5, Page 11, I became very interested in the program of "War on Poverty."

One paragraph states the following. "In other action, the committee approved an application from the Wellsville board of education for funds to sponsor a "Head Start" program for the second year. The program is designed to orient and aid pre-school children."

I cannot see here where money allotted for "War on Poverty" could be spent on an educational program. Surely Wellsville schools are able to support a school classed as kindergarten and I don't believe citizens of Wellsville would want their schools to be classed as poverty stricken. Which if they accept this money would go on the records as such.

In the larger cities, perhaps there are slum localities and places where the salaries are very low where the "War on Poverty" is really necessary. But I do not believe such things exist in our community. With unemployment checks and Social Security it seems that most people are doing very well. I think "War on Poverty" would include, trying to get new jobs, creating new industries, not just giving money to different projects.

THERE IS one class of people who do need help. These are physical handicapped who are not old enough to receive Social Security and whose state aid is so very small that without help from relatives it would be impossible for them to live, and by relatives helping, they are taking from their own children.

For example, a widow on crutches, who has no children, receives $50 a month if she lives in her own home. Her home has no modern plumbing, no water pipes, no bath room, no furnace. How can any one pay taxes, property insurance, life insurance, gas, electric, coal, clothes, food on $50 per month? If she shares her home with some one of the same circumstances her pension is then reduced. If she tries to earn money in her own home such as baking and would profit $40 a month, then $30 is deducted from her pension, making her only $10 for all her labor for the month. People are hired to call on these people to be sure they have no boarders or income. They are treated almost as if they had committed a crime and are on probation. I think when it is proven they are handicapped, that should be it. There should be less money spent on checking pensioners and more given to the handicapped.

Another widow, only in her forties, but so crippled that she never leaves the house, lives with her mother because of this. She receives $16 a month to pay her room and board, pay insurance, medicine, buy clothing. Could you do this?

I believe the "War on Poverty" in our community should begin with our handicapped citizens who would be glad to work if there was something they could do.

PERHAPS THERE could even be some business started with money, and then the business, with good management turn out to be profit-making and carry itself in later years. These people do not want charity, but would like to be treated as if they were human beings.

There are many educated widows who I believe would be glad to help without salary in the "War on Poverty", such as they helped the Red Cross.

I feel this money should be budgeted, and very carefully spent, and a monthly report on the work be published regularly. This is the taxpayers' money.

I am very interested in this "War on Poverty". Volunteers should be asked for. Let's not make this a five-member staff, but make it a county-community staff.

MILDRED M. JOHNSTON
120 W. 4th St.

In an effort to clarify some of the points raised in the above letter, we asked Fred G. Simmen of Oakmont, president of the Columbiana County Community Action Committee, for comment. His remarks follow.

"Project (Head Start) is only one of the many potential applications of the Economic Opportunity Act.

"Head Start is aimed at bringing children of homes where the level of education is low up to a readiness for school equal to those children of more educated parents.

"The Wellsville school system has demonstrated high initiative in utilizing this program locally, but many other different applications of the Economic Opportunity Act are possible and will be implemented in the coming months.

"The situation of the handicapped covered in Mildred Johnston's letter is certainly deplorable in this age of the "Great Society" but to my knowledge this area is not covered under the EOA. It shall be investigated in detail, however.

"The major aim of the act is not to dole out money for the people in economic distress, but to provide opportunity (income and training), sort of self-help through the stimulus of federal funds on a 90-to-10 ratio to local money.

"The emphasis is generally on young adults and children where the potential exists to develop into self-sustaining, tax-paying citizens rather than drift into life times on welfare roles."

Jail Sentence Given Man As Drunk Driver

Wilbert G. Jarvis of West End, Salineville, was sentenced to three days in City Jail and fined $200 and costs Wednesday afternoon after Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff convicted him on a charge of driving an auto while under the influence of alcohol.

Jarvis' driver's license also was suspended for six months, but he was granted permission to use it to travel to and from work.

The Salineville man was convicted after a hearing that lasted nearly three hours. He was cited by East Liverpool police following a traffic mishap Jan. 27 on Dresden Ave. Jarvis was represented by Charles Lang while Richard J. Clark, assistant city solicitor, appeared for the prosecution.

Meanwhile, Melvin Wayne Shuman of Chester R. D. 1, whose auto allegedly hit a boulder on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd. on which a youth was standing was fined $25 and costs today on a charge of failure to stop witih the assured clear distance. Shuman, cited Feb. 3 by the State Highway Patrol, pleaded "no contest."

The patrol said the boulder was struck first by a car driven by an East End girl, William J. Davis, 17, of Idaho Ave., alighted from an auto which arrived on the scene immediately afterward. He was standing on the boulder attempting to warn oncoming traffic with a flashlight when Shuman's auto hit the obstruction, the patrol said.

The judge granted a continuance until Feb. 16 in the case of Frank Dellaria of Burgettstown, who was cited Wednesday at 4:47 p.m. by Patrolman Karl Samples on a charge of crashing a traffic light at E. 3rd and Market Sts. He posted a $17.50 bond.

Ruins Of Home Sifted For Clues In 2 Murders

WINCHESTER, Ohio (AP) — Authorities continue sifting the ruins of a burned-out home near here for further clues in the apparent slayings of an elderly couple.

Sheriff Chester Osman said his belief that Floyd D. Howard, 75, and his wife, Ruth, 73, were murdered, was strengthened Wednesday when a report showed that blood found near the house was human blood.

The report was made by Bill Maxye of the State Crime Laboratory at London.

A large pool of blood was found near an unburned barn, about 75 feet from the house. Osman said Howard was probably killed near the barn and carried to the house, which was then set on fire in an attempt to cover the murder.

The fire was discovered Saturday, but the bodies were not found in the ruins until Sunday.

Over 500 Turn Out For Wally Taber Show

Cantor, Al Jolson, Jack Benny, Fannie Brice, Judy Garland, Jimmy Durante and Bea Lillie, among others.

She never hesitated to talk about herself—and never minded being kidded about her 192-pound bulk — but her age remained a bit of a mystery.

Sophie was born in Russia as her parents were making their way to America via Poland and the Baltic. The date was Jan. 13 and the year is believed to be 1888. But some sources list it as 1884 or 1887.

Asked about the differences, Sophie explained it this way:

"I was 16 when I first went to New York. You couldn't work in a cabaret until you were 18. So I went home and painted up and piled my hair up high and passed for 20.

"So the record shows I was 20 when I was really 16 — and it's bugged me ever since. Good Lord, I won't be alive when I'm 80."

She often worked abroad and was as big a hit in England as in this country.

Her first royal command performance was in 1936. Her third and last came at the Palladium in 1962 and she stole the show with "Life Begins at 40," "After You've Gone," and the inevitable "Some of These Days."

At that first command performance she waved to King George V and Queen Mary and shouted, "Hi-ya, king!"

She was born Sophie Abuza, but once said the family name was Kalish or Kallich. She said the Abuza came from an Italian's passport her father used.

She was 3 months old when her family settled in Boston, and at 8 the family moved to Hartford, Conn., and opened a restaurant. It was in the restaurant that Sophie first sang in public.

She is survived by a son, Bert Tucker; and a brother, Moses Abuza, her agent.

A funeral service will be held at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the Weinstein Mortuary in Hartford. Burial will be in Emanu-El Cemetery, Wethersfield, Conn.

Doctor Eyes Midland For New Practice

A Kansas physician was scheduled to visit Midland today to study the possibility of relocating here.

Dr. W. L. Sweeney of Wichita, Kan., formerly of Salem, Ohio, is to visit the borough, Mayor Eli Corak told Council at its meeting Wednesday night.

Corak said the outlook for obtaining another physician for the community is favorable.

The mayor and Council and others in Midland have been seeking for some time to bring another doctor to the borough, which at present has only three.

Corak said he conferred with Dr. Sweeney by telephone yesterday, adding, "It seems all he needs is proper housing and office space in order to move his family from Kansas and set up a practice."

Pennzoil And Kendall Drop Plans To Merge

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department announced Wednesday that Pennzoil Co. and Kendall Refining Co. have abandoned their plans to merge.

The proposed merger of the two oil companies was the target of a government antitrust suit last Aug. 4, charging that acquisition of Kendall by Pennzoil would substantially decrease competition in the purchase of Penn grade crude oil.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said the firms agreed, in a consent judgment filed in U.S District Court at Pittsburgh, to drop plans for the merger.

Wilbert G. Jarvis of West End, Salineville, was sentenced to three days in City Jail and fined $200 and costs Wednesday afternoon after Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff convicted him on a charge of driving an auto while under the influence of alcohol.

Jarvis' driver's license also was suspended for six months, but he was granted permission to use it to travel to and from work.

The Salineville man was convicted after a hearing that lasted nearly three hours. He was cited by East Liverpool police following a traffic mishap Jan. 27 on Dresden Ave. Jarvis was represented by Charles Lang while Richard J. Clark, assistant city solicitor, appeared for the prosecution.

Meanwhile, Melvin Wayne Shuman of Chester R. D. 1, whose auto allegedly hit a boulder on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd. on which a youth was standing was fined $25 and costs today on a charge of failure to stop witih the assured clear distance. Shuman, cited Feb. 3 by the State Highway Patrol, pleaded "no contest."

The patrol said the boulder was struck first by a car driven by an East End girl, William J. Davis, 17, of Idaho Ave., alighted from an auto which arrived on the scene immediately afterward. He was standing on the boulder attempting to warn oncoming traffic with a flashlight when Shuman's auto hit the obstruction, the patrol said.

The judge granted a continuance until Feb. 16 in the case of Frank Dellaria of Burgettstown, who was cited Wednesday at 4:47 p.m. by Patrolman Karl Samples on a charge of crashing a traffic light at E. 3rd and Market Sts. He posted a $17.50 bond.

Ruins Of Home Sifted For Clues In 2 Murders

WINCHESTER, Ohio (AP) — Authorities continue sifting the ruins of a burned-out home near here for further clues in the apparent slayings of an elderly couple.

Sheriff Chester Osman said his belief that Floyd D. Howard, 75, and his wife, Ruth, 73, were murdered, was strengthened Wednesday when a report showed that blood found near the house was human blood.

The report was made by Bill Maxye of the State Crime Laboratory at London.

A large pool of blood was found near an unburned barn, about 75 feet from the house. Osman said Howard was probably killed near the barn and carried to the house, which was then set on fire in an attempt to cover the murder.

The fire was discovered Saturday, but the bodies were not found in the ruins until Sunday.

Over 500 Turn Out For Wally Taber Show

Donald Green, president of the Midland Sportsmen Club, reported that the Wally Taber Safari Show at Midland High School Monday was a real success.

Over 500 paid attendance was at the show and for the first it has been featured in this area, the show proved a big success. Denny Haver was happy about the fine turnout and said it was one of the best audiences he has seen," Green said.

Cantor, Al Jolson, Jack Benny, Fannie Brice, Judy Garland, Jimmy Durante and Bea Lillie, among others.

She never hesitated to talk about herself—and never minded being kidded about her 192-pound bulk — but her age remained a bit of a mystery.

Sophie was born in Russia as her parents were making their way to America via Poland and the Baltic. The date was Jan. 13 and the year is believed to be 1888. But some sources list it as 1884 or 1887.

Asked about the differences, Sophie explained it this way:

"I was 16 when I first went to New York. You couldn't work in a cabaret until you were 18. So I went home and painted up and piled my hair up high and passed for 20.

"So the record shows I was 20 when I was really 16 — and it's bugged me ever since. Good Lord, I won't be alive when I'm 80."

She often worked abroad and was as big a hit in England as in this country.

Her first royal command performance was in 1936. Her third and last came at the Palladium in 1962 and she stole the show with "Life Begins at 40," "After You've Gone," and the inevitable "Some of These Days."

At that first command performance she waved to King George V and Queen Mary and shouted, "Hi-ya, king!"

She was born Sophie Abuza, but once said the family name was Kalish or Kallich. She said the Abuza came from an Italian's passport her father used.

She was 3 months old when her family settled in Boston, and at 8 the family moved to Hartford, Conn., and opened a restaurant. It was in the restaurant that Sophie first sang in public.

She is survived by a son, Bert Tucker; and a brother, Moses Abuza, her agent.

A funeral service will be held at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the Weinstein Mortuary in Hartford. Burial will be in Emanu-El Cemetery, Wethersfield, Conn.

Doctor Eyes Midland For New Practice

A Kansas physician was scheduled to visit Midland today to study the possibility of relocating here.

Dr. W. L. Sweeney of Wichita, Kan., formerly of Salem, Ohio, is to visit the borough. Mayor Eli Corak told Council at its meeting Wednesday night.

Corak said the outlook for obtaining another physician for the community is favorable.

The mayor and Council and others in Midland have been seeking for some time to bring another doctor to the borough, which at present has only three.

Corak said he conferred with Dr. Sweeney by telephone yesterday, adding, "It seems all he needs is proper housing and office space in order to move his family from Kansas and set up a practice."

Pennzoil And Kendall Drop Plans To Merge

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department announced Wednesday that Pennzoil Co. and Kendall Refining Co. have abandoned their plans to merge.

The proposed merger of the two oil companies was the target of a government antitrust suit last Aug. 4, charging that acquisition of Kendall by Pennzoil would substantially decrease competition in the purchase of Penn grade crude oil.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said the firms agreed, in a consent judgment filed in U.S District Court at Pittsburgh, to drop plans for the merger.

Newscasts Via Early Bird

If the search for a Viet Nam peace goes back to Geneva, as seemed likely in midweek, the American TV networks will be there in force to cover and assess the talks, hopefully with extensive use being made of the Early Bird satellite to televise these reports. In fact, at least one network, NBC, indicated it might make this an occasion to test whether European postal authorities, who control the overseas satellite ground stations, will clear "peak time" on Early Bird for TV news pickups.

Richard Doan

-:-

THE NETWORK has charged in the past that the postal authorities discriminate against TV in favor of profitable use of the satellite for trans-Atlantic phone transmissions.

Meantime, NBC announced it had cleared a prime-time hour, at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 18, for a news special via Early Bird out of Geneva on Viet Nam peace talk developments.

Earlier, ABC disclosed that its Saturday night "Scope" series will be devoted every week to the subject of Viet Nam and its repercussions at home and abroad.

-:-

BECAUSE of the fluidity of the situation and especially because the role of Geneva in peace efforts was not yet determined, not one of the three networks was able immediately to pin down exactly what the planned programs would entail.

"If there is going to be a Geneva peace conference," said Donald Meany, NBC News vice president in charge of specials, "we sure want live TV capabilities from that point. Noonday there would be morning here, when our 'Today' show is on, and we might want daily pickups.

"It all depends on the postal authorities. Here we'll have the real test. We'll see how available the satellite is to U.S. television in covering a crisis."

-:-

HE SAID there was "no magic" involved in setting a prime-time report for Feb. 18. The time is available and the news staff needs some "lead time" to arrange such a report, Meany explained.

He reported that color TV equipment is being ordered up in Europe in hopes of doing the Geneva origination in tint. NBC newsmen Elie Abel and Sandor Vanocur will be in Switzerland, David Brinkley will be anchor man on this side, from New York.

-:-

AN ABC SPOKESMAN said that network is bringing "unusual pressure" on its affiliates to carry "Scope" as a public service. Only 78—fewer than half—of the ABC stations have been clearing time for it.

"We're providing feeds at 7 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. Saturdays," the official said, "saying to our affiliates, 'If you can't run it one of these two times, tape it and run it any time over the weekend—but run it!'"

News executives at the TV networks often beef privately that one of their biggest headaches is trying to get stations out along the line to give air time to the public affairs programs produced by the networks.

"Sometime," a networker groused the other day, "somebody ought to find out not what portion of time the stations allot to public service, but what percentage of their income they give to such programming."

He implied he considered it fractional.

-:-

CBS' "Twentieth Century" has booked its inside look at Moscow University for Feb. 20.

For five weeks last fall a CBS camera crew filmed scenes of classroom and recreational life in the vast Soviet institution (35,000 students, 6,000 dormitory rooms, 1,700 laboratories) and recorded conversations with American exchange students.

The script for the 30-minute telecast has been written by George Feifer, himself, a former exchange student and the author of a book and many articles on the Soviet Union.

Parent-Teacher Conferences Set At Wells Junior

There will be no school Friday at Wells Junior High School in Newell because of parent - teacher conferences, Curtis P. Smith, principal, announced today.

Parents of children with failing or low grades are asked to contact Smith and make appointments to meet with the teachers.

"Parents calling for appointments will be assured of designated times to speak with the teachers," Smith said. "This will eliminate long waiting periods and help the program to run smoothly," he pointed out.

3-Car Crash Injures Four On Route 30

A Lisbon area man was hospitalized and three other area residents injured in a three-car collision on Route 30 near West Point Wednesday afternoon.

Eugene Powell, 69, of Lisbon R.D. 1 remained in "fair" condition today at City Hospital, where three other men — one from Apples Corners and two from Midland — were treated after the crash at 4:20 p.m.

The others injured were Howard Mitchell, 27, of Apples Corners, driver of one auto, Donald Kane, 25, and Gary Mihlbauer, 24, both of Midland Heights and passengers in the car driven by Mitchell.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Powell was headed north on Route 30 and made a left turn toward County Rd. 417.

A truck driven by James Wolfe, 27, of Steubenville, headed south, swerved to avoid the crash and missed Powell's car. But Mitchell, traveling behind the truck, collided with Powell's auto head-on.

The impact spun Powell's car completely around and knocked it head-on into a car driven by Mary Sims, 30, of Lisbon R. D. 2 who had been traveling behind Powell.

She said she slowed when Powell started to make the turn and then halted when she saw the truck swerve.

Powell suffered lacerations of the mouth and bruises of the chest. He was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Mitchell received bruises of the right chest and right hand. Kane, of 18-A Midland Heights, was treated for bruises and abrasions of the knee and a sprained left ankle and Mihlbauer of 4-F Midland Heights, was treated for facial injuries and a fractured nose and bruises of the arm.

THE NETWORK has charged in the past that the postal authorities discriminate against TV in favor of profitable use of the satellite for trans-Atlantic phone transmissions.

Meantime, NBC announced it had cleared a prime-time hour, at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 18, for a news special via Early Bird out of Geneva on Viet Nam peace talk developments.

Earlier, ABC disclosed that its Saturday night "Scope" series will be devoted every week to the subject of Viet Nam and its repercussions at home and abroad.

-:-

BECAUSE of the fluidity of the situation and especially because the role of Geneva in peace efforts was not yet determined, not one of the three networks was able immediately to pin down exactly what the planned programs would entail.

"If there is going to be a Geneva peace conference," said Donald Meany, NBC News vice president in charge of specials, "we sure want live TV capabilities from that point. Noonday there would be morning here, when our 'Today' show is on, and we might want daily pickups.

"It all depends on the postal authorities. Here we'll have the real test. We'll see how available the satellite is to U.S. television in covering a crisis."

-:-

HE SAID there was "no magic" involved in setting a prime-time report for Feb. 18. The time is available and the news staff needs some "lead time" to arrange such a report, Meany explained.

He reported that color TV equipment is being ordered up in Europe in hopes of doing the Geneva origination in tint. NBC newsmen Elie Abel and Sandor Vanocur will be in Switzerland. David Brinkley will be anchor man on this side, from New York.

-:-

AN ABC SPOKESMAN said that network is bringing "unusual pressure" on its affiliates to carry "Scope" as a public service. Only 78—fewer than half—of the ABC stations have been clearing time for it.

"We're providing feeds at 7 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. Saturdays," the official said, "saying to our affiliates, 'If you can't run it one of these two times, tape it and run it any time over the weekend—but run it!'"

News executives at the TV networks often beef privately that one of their biggest headaches is trying to get stations out along the line to give air time to the public affairs programs produced by the networks.

"Sometime," a networker groused the other day, "somebody ought to find out not what portion of time the stations allot to public service, but what percentage of their income they give to such programming."

He implied he considered it fractional.

CBS' "Twentieth Century" has booked its inside look at Moscow University for Feb. 20.

For five weeks last fall a CBS camera crew filmed scenes of classroom and recreational life in the vast Soviet institution (35,000 students, 6,000 dormitory rooms, 1,700 laboratories) and recorded conversations with American exchange students.

The script for the 30-minute telecast has been written by George Feifer, himself, a former exchange student and the author of a book and many articles on the Soviet Union.

There will be no school Friday at Wells Junior High School in Newell because of parent - teacher conferences, Curtis P. Smith, principal, announced today.

"Parents calling for appointments will be assured of designated times to speak with the teachers," Smith said. "This will eliminate long waiting periods and help the program to run smoothly," he pointed out.

3-Car Crash Injures Four On Route 30

A Lisbon area man was hospitalized and three other area residents injured in a three-car collision on Route 30 near West Point Wednesday afternoon.

Eugene Powell, 69, of Lisbon R.D. 1 remained in "fair" condition today at City Hospital, where three other men — one from Apples Corners and two from Midland — were treated after the crash at 4:20 p.m.

The others injured were Howard Mitchell, 27, of Apples Corners, driver of one auto, Donald Kane, 25, and Gary Mihlbauer, 24, both of Midland Heights and passengers in the car driven by Mitchell.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Powell was headed north on Route 30 and made a left turn toward County Rd. 417.

A truck driven by James Wolfe, 27, of Steubenville, headed south, swerved to avoid the crash and missed Powell's car. But Mitchell, traveling behind the truck, collided with Powell's auto head-on.

The impact spun Powell's car completely around and knocked it head-on into a car driven by Mary Sims, 30, of Lisbon R. D. 2 who had been traveling behind Powell.

She said she slowed when Powell started to make the turn and then halted when she saw the truck swerve.

Powell suffered lacerations of the mouth and bruises of the chest. He was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Mitchell received bruises of the right chest and right hand. Kane, of 18-A Midland Heights, was treated for bruises and abrasions of the knee and a sprained left ankle and Mihlbauer of 4-F Midland Heights, was treated for facial injuries and a fractured nose and bruises of the arm.

Board OK's 1966 Funds At Waterford

MIDDLETON — The Fairfield - Waterford School District board of education Wednesday night set an appropriation of $841,351 for fiscal 1966, an increase over 1965 due chiefly to the $320,000 bond issue for school improvements.

The total resources amount to $578,380, which — with the bond issue and various fixed charges —equals the appropriation, Supt. Joseph Driscoll said.

Robert Beatty, East Liverpool architect preparing plans for the school improvement project, was unable to attend last night's meeting, and a special session will be set later with him.

A resolution was adopted in answer to a request from the Salem Board of Education to join in a technical school district.

The resolution indicated the board believes a county community college with technical school would best fit the higher education needs of the county and urges the state board of regents to grant the college a charter.

However, the board declared should a charter not be received, the board would join in the Salem technical school project.

Mrs. Rose Colella of New Waterford, cook at the New Waterford School, was promoted to head cook.

The board gave official recognition to the Fairfield - Waterford classroom Teachers Organization as a professional group.

Driscoll reported only four more are needed to complete an adult education class on typing. Anyone interested may sign at the Crestview High School.

The Music Boosters will meet Monday night at the high school, the Athletic Boosters Tuesday night at the school.

The PTO will meet Feb. 21 at the school.

Driscoll reported the Fairifeld-Waterford science fair will be held March 4.

A survey of the city's 53-year-old Gamewell fire alarm system was completed Wednesday by Ed Guest, a representative of the Pittsburgh office of Bliss-Gamewell, Inc., and Acting Chief Alfred R. Van Dyne.

The study was started Tuesday and recommendations for replacement of the system, termed obsolete and broken-down by firemen, will be submitted by the company, a successor to the firm which installed the original system.

Meanwhile, Van Dyne said a station wagon used as a chief's car has been deadlined. The 1960 compact is unfit for any use, he said. In a report submitted to City Council including budget for this year and recommendations for improvements, Van Dyne asked replacement of the vehicle.

Crash Hurts Motorist, 18, At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Ronald Lewis, 18, of 100 E. Main St., was in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered early this morning when his 1965 car skidded on ice against a wall then knocked down a postal collection box in the West End.

Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lewis, apparently lost control when the sedan skidded on an icy area, Police Chief Ray Keister said.

The car struck a concrete wall, bounced against a utility pole and then hit the mail receptacle, causing heavy damage to the auto in the 1:30 a. m. mishap, Chief Keister said.

The driver suffered a possible fractured nose, severe laceration of the mouth and chest bruises.

The mishap is still being investigated, Chief Keister said.

The Automotive Safety Foundation is supported by more than 600 companies and associations concerned with the highway death toll, including the major automobile manufacturers.

Board OK's 1966 Funds At Waterford

MIDDLETON — The Fairfield - Waterford School District board of education Wednesday night set an appropriation of $841,351 for fiscal 1966, an increase over 1965 due chiefly to the $320,000 bond issue for school improvements.

The total resources amount to $578,380, which — with the bond issue and various fixed charges —equals the appropriation, Supt. Joseph Driscoll said.

Robert Beatty, East Liverpool architect preparing plans for the school improvement project, was unable to attend last night's meeting, and a special session will be set later with him.

A resolution was adopted in answer to a request from the Salem Board of Education to join in a technical school district.

The resolution indicated the board believes a county community college with technical school would best fit the higher education needs of the county and urges the state board of regents to grant the college a charter.

However, the board declared should a charter not be received, the board would join in the Salem technical school project.

Mrs. Rose Colella of New Waterford, cook at the New Waterford School, was promoted to head cook.

The board gave official recognition to the Fairfield - Waterford classroom Teachers Organization as a professional group.

Driscoll reported only four more are needed to complete an adult education class on typing. Anyone interested may sign at the Crestview High School.

The Music Boosters will meet Monday night at the high school, the Athletic Boosters Tuesday night at the school.

The PTO will meet Feb. 21 at the school.

Rights Group Shift Urged By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today to allow him to shift the Community Relations Service—the federal government's chief racial mediation arm — from the Commerce to the Justice Department.

For a change, this is one civil rights proposal the President hopes Congress will ignore. For if neither House acts unfavorably within 60 days, the reorganization becomes effective.

In a letter transmitting the plan to Congress, Johnson noted that the service was placed in the Commerce Department on the assumption its primary job would be to resolve disputes over the hotly contested 1964 ban on discrimination in restaurants, theaters, hotels and other places of public accomodation.

"That decision was appropriate on the basis of information available at that time," the President said. "The need for conciliation in this area has not been as great as anticipated because of the voluntary progress that has been made by businessmen and business organizations."

The service was created by the 1964 Civil Rights Act to attempt to head off racial conflict through conciliation and mediation with local officials and representatives of all races.

Rights Group Shift Urged By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today to allow him to shift the Community Relations Service—the federal government's chief racial mediation arm — from the Commerce to the Justice Department.

For a change, this is one civil rights proposal the President hopes Congress will ignore. For if neither House acts unfavorably within 60 days, the reorganization becomes effective.

In a letter transmitting the plan to Congress, Johnson noted that the service was placed in the Commerce Department on the assumption its primary job would be to resolve disputes over the hotly contested 1964 ban on discrimination in restaurants, theaters, hotels and other places of public accomodation.

"That decision was appropriate on the basis of information available at that time," the President said. "The need for conciliation in this area has not been as great as anticipated because of the voluntary progress that has been made by businessmen and business organizations."

The service was created by the 1964 Civil Rights Act to attempt to head off racial conflict through conciliation and mediation with local officials and representatives of all races.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: To get my children to eat hard-boiled eggs, I remove the eggs from the hot water and peel them.

I then drop some food coloring in some water, and put the eggs in the colored water.

This way, the white of the egg is colored (instead of the shells), and the kids never leave one bit of the beautifully-colored egg.

MRS. JOE SHOOK.

Yes, Mrs. Shook, and also, if you have any leftover pickled beet juice (plain beet juice will do, too), put some peeled hard-boiled eggs in this and leave it in your refrigerator for a day or so.

These purple - tinted eggs may then be cut with your egg slicer, and put across the top of a lettuce salad!

Absolutely beautiful.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Being the mother of three pre-schoolers, here is a trick I have used to save both time and money:

I change my youngsters' beds in the middle of the week, by turning both sheets (from head to foot). This gives them a clean change, since short legs don't reach to the foot of the bed.

M. M.

DEAR FOLKS: Many people have asked me if magnetic tape is permanent. The only thing I know for sure is that you can be carrying a tape recorder with a magnetic tape, and if you happen to go under a high - powered line (electrical cables, etc.), that it may possibly erase what is on the tape.

If you will wrap it in a bunch of newspapers, it helps. So, be careful what kind of high voltage wires you walk under!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I made a laundry bag of nylon net to wash my quilted nylon robe and sweaters in.

The net acts like a thousand extra fingers — getting at spots. No rubbing or wringing... just sloshing and mashing.

It's so easy to handle a garment this way.

HELEN B. WHITTEN.

DEAR HELOISE: When my grandchildren visit, they know right where to find their own towels and washrags.

I bought six white plastic hooks (the kind that are dampened and stick to the wall permanently) from the dime store. I stuck them to the wall behind the kitchen door, about three feet from the floor, where they can be easily reached by the children.

This makes them feel important and happy, when they can claim their own towel and washrag (each in different colored sets), and they always wash their hands and faces before and after each meal, without being told.

A GRANDMOTHER.

DEAR HELOISE: To protect a letter I want to leave outside for the postman to pick up when it is raining, I put the letter in a plastic bag before placing it outdoors.

MRS. JOE BRADEN

DEAR HELOISE: If you have a number of envelopes to seal and stamp, just lay a wet sponge in a saucer of water.

Pat the flap of the envelopes on the sponge, press it down, turn it over and wet the corner for the stamp. Just a flip, and all is done.

When the sponge dries on one side, just turn it over.

OLIVE.

DEAR HELOISE: To fill the space between my kitchen cabinet and stove, I cut a one-and-one-half inch wide strip of adhesive - backed paper that matches my cabinet top, stuck it to the stove and cabinet top, and it barely shows.

It lasts a long time, is easily wiped off and is easy to replace when necessary.

MRS. FRANK E. THOMPSON.

OLIVE.

DEAR HELOISE: To fill the space between my kitchen cabinet and stove, I cut a one-and-one-half inch wide strip of adhesive - backed paper that matches my cabinet top, stuck it to the stove and cabinet top, and it barely shows.

It lasts a long time, is easily wiped off and is easy to replace when necessary.

Excessive Homework Should Be Curbed

An increasing number of children are assigned at school an excessive amount of homework. Though, as we pointed out many children whose parents complain that their children have too much homework, fritter away their time in getting down to do this homework and fool around a lot while pretending to do it, some conscientious children work so long and hard at it as to have little or no time left for relaxation, and not enough time for sleep.

Dr. Garry Myers

As you must have observed with your child doing homework in the fourth, ninth or eleventh grade, most of his time is spent at written work, to be handed in at school. His teachers assume that it is through the written work they can cause the child to do homework. When he hands it in at school they have proof that he did it.

—:—

A FEW of these teachers conscientiously try to check carefully on all this written homework. When they do, they wear themselves out and may not get enough sleep. At the secondary school level, some outside persons are hired to read papers (compositions) in English.

As a rule, most written homework is not carefully checked or checked at all at school. The teacher usually has time only to check whether it has been handed in or not. An easy assignment for the teacher is so many drill problems in arithmetic or algebra, or an outline of a subject or chapter in history, geography or science.

In the upper grades and high school a frequent assignment is a special report expected to be very, very long and elaborate.

Consider how many English compositions are supposed to be one or more thousand words in length. How is it possible for the teacher to go over these papers carefully with the pupil or student?

—:—

THE CHIEF cause of excessive homework is the inordinate amount of it that must be written. If written homework were, as a rule, reduced to a quarter or less of the prevailing amount, it would, no doubt, be far more effective.

To have a child in the fourth grade do at home carefully and accurately four or five of the drill items in arithmetic if they were carefully checked at school, might be far more useful than to have him do twenty or fifty carelessly and not checked at school, just to keep him busy.

When he writes a composition, half a page could be far better than five or more pages. And why do compositions (themes) at the secondary level have to be so long? Carefully done at home and carefully checked at school, one of a few hundred words, as a rule, could be far better than one of several thousand words.

Most teachers of English at any grade level would be wiser to say it must not be more than five hundred words than to say it must be so many thousand words long.

—:—

LET ME propose that, in general, the teacher assigns no more written homework than she is willing and able to check thoroughly and carefully. Then fewer parents would "holler" about homework and more would check on homework written for school.

My bulletin "Parents and the Child's Homework" may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP)—State Sen. Frazier Reams Jr. of Toledo says he conversed with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey of Ypsilanti, Mich., at Cleveland Monday about the Ohio political situation.

Reams, seeking the Democratic nomination for governor, said he sounded out Humphrey during the vice president's speaking trip on the possibility of his helping in the fall Ohio campaign. Reams told Ottawa County Democrats further in a talk Wednesday night that he did not and would not seek Humphrey's endorsement in his primary contest with State Rep. Harry H. McIlwain of Cincinnati.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: A couple we know has a 3-year-old child. They keep the child's piggy bank in the living room on the coffee table. Whenever they entertain the conversation somehow gets turned to the piggy bank.

The parents tell how much was in the bank when they last opened it and who gave what. They save for different "projects" and open the bank when it gets so full they can't put any money in.

Right now they are saving for a dance costume. We got all the details last night. My husband put in 50 cents "to help the cause." I don't care about the 50 cents but I think it's poor taste to put guests on the spot. My husband says I'm small-minded. Am I? — MODERN MATH

-:-

Dear Modern: You can call it a piggy bank if you want to. I call it a collection box—and the living room is no place for it. I'm with you.

-:-

Unsigned Coward

Dear Ann: Yesterday I received an anonymous message in the mail. It read: "Dear Friend. I ran across this bright saying and thought of your husband: 'If at first you do succeed, chances are good that it's your father's business.'"

My husband happens to be in his father's business. It's a large company and a successful one. My husband started at the bottom and has earned the position he now holds. Under his leadership the business has expanded and flourished.

What outsiders don't know about the problems of a family business could fill a library. The pressures are terrific. My husband works harder than anyone I know. It burns me up when people intimate that he was born successful and sits back and rakes in the money.

Thanks for letting me get this off my chest, Ann. I feel better already.—ALSO ANONYMOUS.

-:-

Dear Also: It's unfair to assume that every man who is in a family business has had success dropped in his lap. Many bright, hard - working men in family businesses could have made it big somewhere else—and some of them wish they had. The emotional problems which result from relatives being in business together can be devastating.

Anonymous messages are the handiwork of cowardly malcontents. Forget it.

Fiddling Around

Dear Ann: My husband never was one for hobbies until six months ago. At the age of 55 he suddenly decided to take up the cello.

I don't even care for good cello music so you can imagine what I endure when he screeches away two or three hours a day. Alex is teaching himself with the help of some books. He didn't even know he was supposed to put resin on the bow until I told him.

Our children all studied music when they were young and their practicing never bothered me the way this does. Please tell me what to do. I'm getting nervous.—L.C.

-:-

Dear L.C.: Don't complain because your 55-year-old husband is fiddling around. At least Alex has a cello.

Fix up a practice nook for him in the attic, the basement or even the garage. And buy a transistor radio to carry with you as you do your housework. It will help drown out the racket—I mean music.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Transit Workers Insists That Its Pact Be Honored

NEW YORK (AP) — The Transport Workers Union says it will insist that its strike-won contract be honored by the city, despite a state court's view that the bus and subway workers cannot collect a pay raise for three years.

"New York's transit workers will insist that the Transit Authority and the mayor live up to the agreement," said a spokesman for the AFL-CIO union.

State Supreme Court Justice Irving H. Saypol, in a ruling Wednesday on a taxpayer's suit, sharply rebuked the authority for its agreement to pay 34,000 transit workers about $60 million they won during last month's crippling 12-day strike.

Calling the settlement a clear violation of the state's Condon-Wadlin law, which forbids public employes from striking, Saypol said it was "craven servility" to grant the pay increases. He charged that the unions had "extorted ransom from eight million citizens."

The ruling was made on a suit filed by George Weinstein, 33, a Queens lawyer, who asked that the city be enjoined from giving the raises for three years, a penalty for strikers under the Condon-Wadlin law.

Fires in this country last year took the lives of 12,000 persons. Of the 6,500 who died in home fires, 2,100 of the victims were children.

Potters Out To Extend Home Streak To 4 Straight

Martins Ferry To Bring Record Of 11-3; Niles Hits Bumpy Road

The East Liverpool Potters have a big weekend coming up when they attempt to extend their home winning streak to four straight games with Martins Ferry and Niles as the opponents at Memorial auditorium.

Coach Frank Chan's charges opened the six-game home stand on a successful note last week by wallop-Youngstown North and following with a 10-point victory over Wellsville.

A strong Martins Ferry five appears to be the biggest hurdle for the Potters in their four remaining games. The Purple Riders will appear at the MA Friday night and bring an impressive 11-3 record with them.

Since Roger Best took over last season at Martins Ferry his teams have won 26 and lost eight. The 26-year-old mentor has seen his team lose twice this year to the same school—Bridgeport—which holds a 89-60 win over Martins Ferry in a game played at Bridgeport and a 58-56 verdict at Martins Ferry. Bridgeport is undefeated and ranks fifth among Class A schools.

THE RIDERS only other loss came at the hands of Wheeling Central 55-53 on a goal by the Wheeling five in the last two seconds.

Martins Ferry opened the season with nine straight victories before making the trip to Bridgeport.

The Riders most recent victory was a 73-68 win over Bellaire last week.

Martins Ferry, which shows a balanced attack, has the big man in Ed Laase, a 6-7 senior, who has scored 178 points in 12 games. Laase missed two games due to a knee injury but has been the team's leading rebounder. He missed the first meeting with Bridgeport due to his knee condition.

ANOTHER top rebounder and scorer for the Riders is George Ontko, a 6-3 junior, who is rated a very good jumper. He has scored 185 points playing in all 14 games.

A pair of 5-10 seniors will get the starting call. They are Denny Nixon and Dan Egan. Nixon has the best scoring average on the team with his fine outside shooting acounting from most of his 191 points in 13 contests.

THE FIFTH starter who broke into the first unit in the last two weeks is Dave Reasbeck, a 6-1 sophomore. He is a younger brother of Dick Reasbeck, the former Ohio State star.

Best has a strong bench and can call on four other cagers for spot assignments.

Friday's reserve game also should prove interesting with Martins Ferry bringing an undefeated team here with 14 straight victories. The Potter reserves have been feasting on undefeated teams having defeated two so far this season.

NILES will oppose the Potters Saturday night and first year coach Dick Bullock has found the basketball road quite bumpy.

The Red Dragons have shown little fire with a disastrous 1-15 record. The only win by Niles was over Warren John Kennedy, 65-60.

The Potters will be heavily favored to win their first Big 8 Conference game of the season. In Big 8 play, Niles has lost to Massillon, 67-34, Alliance, 82-50, Salem, 84-45 and Big Red, 82-75.

Niles also was nipped by Youngstown Ursuline, a team the Potters belted, 73-42.

The Dragons have two returning lettermen leading the scoring parade in Larry Cella, a 6-1 senior who has scored 161 points in 14 games and Art Stanton, a 5-10 senior with 155 points. Tallest man on the starting unit is Perry McFadden, a 6-5 junior.

St. John's Edges Temple, Notre Dame Ends Streak

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was a night to remember for the Irish of Notre Dame and the Redmen of St. John's University in college basketball. The Irish snapped a 13-game losing streak and the Redmen won in Philadelphia for the first time in seven years.

Notre Dame's first victory since Dec. 15 when the Irish downed Bowling Green was a decisive 84-61 home decision over Butler Wednesday night. Led by Jim Monahan's 19 points, the Irish opened a 12-0 lead and had little trouble winning their fourth game against 15 defeats.

In contrast, the Redmen from New York had to go two overtimes for a 75-72 squeaker over Temple. It was St. John's first victory in the Palestra at Philadelphia since Jan. 6, 1959.

Bob McIntyre's basket in the closing seconds of regulation time tied the score for St. John's at 61-61 after Sonny Dove prevented a possible winning lay-up by Temple's Jim Williams by knocking the ball out of bounds.

Williams' two free throws gave Temple a 65-65 tie at the end of the first overtime. But with five seconds left in the second extra period and St. John's ahead 73-72, he missed twice from the foul line. In the last seconds Temple's Chris Ketalos fouled Henry Cluess who made good on two free throws for St. John's final points.

Clarence Brookins of Temple was high scorer with 26 points. Dove topped St. John's with 24 while McIntyre got 21. The game was part of a doubleheader. Lafayette beat LaSalle 93-81 in the opener.

The Providence Friars and the St. Joseph's Hawks of Philadelphia, the only teams in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, each won handily. Back at home, after Sunday's upset defeat by Duquesne, the sixth-ranked Friars whipped Fairfield 74-62 behind Jim Benedict's 25 points. The eight-ranked Hawks crushed Seton Hall 110-64, the worst home-court defeat ever suffered by the Pirates.

Henry Finkel's basket with 54 seconds left put Dayton ahead of Xavier of Ohio 72-71 and his two free throws with two seconds to go sealed the Flyers' 76-73 road victory over the Musketeers. It was Dayton's 17th triumph against three defeats.

Bob Lewis scored 34 points for North Carolina, but the Tar Heels were beaten by NYU 83-78 in the feature of a doubleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden. Richie Murphy's 22 points, combined with Tom Greely's two free throws in the last minute, gave Holy Cross a 68-66 victory over Manhattan in the Garden first game.

Auburn and Alabama scored road victories in the Southeastern Conference. Auburn whipped Florida 86-66 and Alabama downed Mississippi 79-60.

Pittsburgh Given Franchise In NHL

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Hockey League, spawned in Montreal with four Canadian and no American teams 48 years ago, has moved to within shooting distance of completing its expansion program by granting six new franchises, each to groups representing U.S. cities.

Los Angeles, San Francisco-Oakland, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Minneapolis-St. Paul were given the green light Wednesday after the NHL's Board of Governors reviewed 13 applications from eight cities during the three-day meetings. In addition, St. Louis received a conditional franchise.

Bids by delegations from Vancouver, B.C.; Baltimore, and Buffalo were rejected.

The 12 - team, two division, coast-to-coast operation is geared to start in October 1967.

If present plans materialize, 10 of the 12 teams in the projected setup will be based in the United States. The Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs would be the only NHL entries from north of the border.

The awarding of the St. Louis franchise is subject to approval of an applicant satisfactory to the board of governors by April 5, 1966. Otherwise, said league President Clarence Campbell, a franchise will be granted to a Baltimore group headed by Zanvyl Krieger, a major stockholder in the Baltimore Orioles' baseball club.

So, this is the way hockey's big league, which has had the same six teams since 1942 when the Brooklyn Americans disbanded, will likely shape up for the start of the 1967-68 campaign.

In one division, New York, Boston, Chicago, Detroit, Toronto and Montreal. In another division, Los Angeles, San Francisco-Oakland, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Pittsburgh and either St. Louis or Baltimore.

Each of the new teams will play a 74-game schedule, 50 games against clubs in their division and 24 against those in the present division. The same setup will exist for the current six teams.

"The current NHL is concentrated in the East," Campbell said. "The six new teams will constitute a division that will be well-balanced geographically with two clubs in the East, two in the Midwest and two on the West Coast."

Sophomore Terry Wong of Hilo, Hawaii is a member of Army's squash team. Hank Langerdorf of Silver City, N.M., captains the team.

Youngstown Holds Fifth In Cage Poll

By The Associated Press

Southern Illinois, with three victories last week running its season record to 14-3, continues to lead The Associated Press small - college basketball poll, but Grambling is closing the gap.

The Salukis had five first-place votes and 111 points in this week's balloting by a panel of sportswriters and broadcasters. Both figures were less than they had a week ago, and runner-up Grambling, 26 points behind 1st week, now trails by only 16.

Behind the top two there was some shuffling. Cheyney State, with 17 straight victories, jumped three places to No. 3. Northern Michigan, Youngstown and North Dakota, third, fourth and fifth last week, each slipped one notch.

The Top Ten, with season records and points:

1.	Southern Ill. 14-3	111
2.	Grambling 16-2	95
3.	Cheyney State 17-0	90
4.	Northern Mich. 10-2	77
5.	Youngstown 14-1	72
6.	North Dakota 18-3	65
7.	Abilene Christian 16-5	33
8.	Valparaiso 15-4	26
9.	Tennessee State 15-2	25
10.	Evansville 13-6	21

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Charley Winner, Baltimore Colts assistant coach, was named head coach of the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League today.

Winner replaces Wally Lemm, who quit Jan. 10 after four years at St. Louis.

Winner, an NFL coach for 12 years, has been a defensive specialist with the Colts. He joined the Colts in 1954.

Winner signed a two-year contract. Terms were not disclosed.

Miami, Toledo Pick Up Key Victories In MAC

By The Associated Press

Miami and Toledo grabbed vital victories in their Mid-American Conference race, Akron regained the Ohio Conference lead, and Dayton narrowly escaped upset-minded Xavier on one of Ahio college basketball's most eventful weeknights Wednesday.

Miami repulsed Ohio University 70-55 at Oxford while Toledo overcame Western Michigan 74-68 at Kalamazoo, making the first place Redskins 8-1 and runnerup Toledo 5-1 in the MAC.

Akron bombed Oberlin 100-63 at home while Mount Union knocked off Wooster 56-52 at Alliance, promoting Akron to 9-2 and Mount Union to 8-2 in the OC as previous leader Wooster fell to third at 10-3.

Dayton had to come from behind in the final 54 seconds to defeat Xavier 76-73 at Cincinnati and lift its record to 17-3.

Youngstown cemented its No. 5 national small college rating with a 78-62 conquest of Villa Madonna.

Central State beat weak Wilmington, 86-49.

Rounding out a busy 11-game card, John Kahle's 40 points and Jim Tangeman's 35-foot jumper at the buzzer gave Heidelberg a 96-95 Ohio Conference victory over Baldwin - Wallace; Jim Oberlin Carder scored 34 as Findlay beat Hillsdale 103-89; Ohio Northern upset Bluffton 84-75, and Dave Warren's 33 led Cleveland State over Western Reserve 99-75.

Ohio U., now 3-4 in the Mid-Am, stayed close to Miami through most of the first half but the Redskins led 35-30 at intermission and pulled away shortly afterward on six straight points by Jerry Peirson. Jim Patterson's 19 points and Peirson's 16 led Miami while Mike Hammond had 17 for the Bobcats.

Toledo won with the help of Bob Aston's 29 points.

Dayton wiped out a 10-point Xavier lead in the last 10 minutes but fell behind 71-70 before a goal and two free throws by Henry Finkel and two foul conversions by Gene Klaus told the tale. Don May scored 28 and Finkel 22 for the Flyers, Bryan Williams 30 and Bob Quick 21 for the Musketeers.

Chick Campbell's 25 points and a tip-in by Dean Nicholson that broke a 51-51 tie with 1:16 left enabled Mount Union to bump Wooster. Akron capitalized on the Raider success by rolling to its 33rd straight home triumph as Ken Mackovic scored 23 and Bill Turner 21 against Oberlin.

Palmer Rates Favorite In Phoenix Open Golf

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, off to his fastest winter tour start in history, was the man to beat as the $60,000 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament opened today over a soggy Arizona Country Club course.

Palmer, who has a first, two seconds and a third in four starts this year, won the Phoenix event in 1961, 1962 and 1963.

Palmer and the rest of the field, which includes all five 1966 champions, were keeping an eye on the sky. Rain and hail forced cancellation of Wednesday's pro-am competition midway through the round.

Party cloudy skies were expected today with a chance of more afternoon showers. Temperatures ranging from the mid 30s to the mid 50s were forecast.

Ken Venturi, the 1964 U.S. Open champ, was one of those most concerned with the cold. His hands, operated on last summer for circulatory problems, are easily numbed by chilly weather, and he must employ gloves and hand warmers on brisk days.

Venturi, who captured the Lucky International title last month in San Francisco, played in what there was of Wednesday's pro-am and appeared to have little difficulty with the cold.

Venturi and Palmer, who won the Los Angeles Open, join Bob Hope Classic champ Doug Sanders, San Diego Open winner Billy Casper and Bing Crosby titlist Don Massengale in the field.

The rain-soaked rye grass fairways of the 6,765-yard, par-71 course were playing long, favoring the big hitters like Palmer.

Rod Funseth is the defending Phoenix champion. The 32-year-old Spokane, Wash., campaigner used the tourney as a springboard to his best season ever — $30,647 in official money — last year.

Although he's won just $2,341 over-all so far in 1966, Funseth's closing rounds of 68-66 were the best in last week's Bob Hope event.

Only a handful of pros finished before rain washed out Wednesday's activity. Of those who did, George Knudson and Randy Glover had the best scores with 69s.

Celtics Push NBA Lead To Three Games

By The Associated Press

Less than two weeks ago, the Boston Celtics were out of first place in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

Today they hold a three-game edge over Cincinnati and Philadelphia, and they indicate the margin may grow bigger.

The Celtics trimmed New York 121-117 Wednesday night, snapping the Knicks' four-game winning streak. In other games, Philadelphia rolled past Detroit 108-91 and Los Angeles outlasted Baltimore 123-116 in overtime.

The Celtics' victory was their sixth in the last eight games and boosted their lead over idle Cincinnati to three games. Philadelphia remained three back.

Mel Counts sparked the Boston triumph, scoring 18 points and grabbing nine rebounds in just 16 minutes of play. With New York threatening in the final quarter, the 7-footer came off the bench and scored six straight points for a 108-99 Celtics' lead.

Six Celtics scored 15 points or better with Bull Russell leading the group with 20. Dick Barnett had 32 for the Knicks.

Wilt Chamberlein poured in 30 points as Philadelphia downed Detroit. He now needs only 98 points to equal Bob Pettit's all-time NBA scoring record of 20,880.

Dukes Come From Behind To Nip Foe

By The Associated Press

Duquesne defeated Kentucky Wesleyan 63-60 and a surprising St. Vincent team beat Waynesburg 105-93 Wednesday night in Western Pennsylvania college basketball games.

The Dukes had to come from behind at Pittsburgh's Civic Arena to trim the spunky Kentucky team. With only four minutes left and trailing 60-57, the Dukes sank four free throws and hit on a field goal while holding the Panthers scoreless.

Jimmy Smith led the Duquesne scoring with 16 points. Don Bradley and Dallas Thornton sparked the Kentucky attack with 16 points apiece.

In a West Penn Conference game at Waynesburg, St. Vincent won its second game of the season by downing the Yellow Jackets. St. Vincent, which has lost 14, got its first season victory last week by upsetting St. Francis of Loretto.

John Pranatis paced the St. Vincent attack against Waynesburg with 25 points. High scorer for Waynesburg was Dave Smith who had 19.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

OMER SCOTT. In loving remembrance of our dear husband and father, who was called home 2 years ago, Feb. 8, 1964. Sad and sudden was the call. Of one so dear and loved by all. His loving heart had ceased to beat. Before we knew it, he was gone. A bitter grief, a shock severe. To part with one we loved so dear. God loved him too and thought it best. So He took him home to eternal rest. But only those who loved him best can tell. The heartache of not saying a last farewell.

Youngstown Holds Fifth In Cage Poll

By The Associated Press

Southern Illinois, with three victories last week running its season record to 14-3, continues to lead The Associated Press small - college basketball poll, but Grambling is closing the gap.

The Salukis had five first-place votes and 111 points in this week's balloting by a panel of sportswriters and broadcasters. Both figures were less than they had a week ago, and runner-up Grambling, 26 points behind 1st week, now trails by only 16.

Behind the top two there was some shuffling. Cheyney State, with 17 straight victories, jumped three places to No. 3. Northern Michigan, Youngstown and North Dakota, third, fourth and fifth last week, each slipped one notch.

The Top Ten, with season records and points:

1.	Southern Ill. 14-3	111
2.	Grambling 16-2	95
3.	Cheyney State 17-0	90
4.	Northern Mich. 10-2	77
5.	Youngstown 14-1	72
6.	North Dakota 18-3	65
7.	Abilene Christian 16-5	33
8.	Valparaiso 15-4	26
9.	Tennessee State 15-2	25
10.	Evansville 13-6	21

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Charley Winner, Baltimore Colts assistant coach, was named head coach of the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League today.

Winner replaces Wally Lemm, who quit Jan. 10 after four years at St. Louis.

Winner, an NFL coach for 12 years, has been a defensive specialist with the Colts. He joined the Colts in 1954.

Winner signed a two-year contract. Terms were not disclosed.

Miami, Toledo Pick Up Key Victories In MAC

By The Associated Press

Miami and Toledo grabbed vital victories in their Mid-American Conference race, Akron regained the Ohio Conference lead, and Dayton narrowly escaped upset-minded Xavier on one of Ohio college basketball's most eventful weeknights Wednesday.

Miami repulsed Ohio University 70-55 at Oxford while Toledo overcame Western Michigan 74-68 at Kalamazoo, making the first place Redskins 8-1 and runnerup Toledo 5-1 in the MAC.

Akron bombed Oberlin 100-63 at home while Mount Union knocked off Wooster 56-52 at Alliance, promoting Akron to 9-2 and Mount Union to 8-2 in the OC as previous leader Wooster fell to third at 10-3.

Dayton had to come from behind in the final 54 seconds to defeat Xavier 76-73 at Cincinnati and lift its record to 17-3.

Youngstown cemented its No. 5 national small college rating with a 78-62 conquest of Villa Madonna.

Central State beat weak Wilmington, 86-49.

Rounding out a busy 11-game card, John Kahle's 40 points and Jim Tangeman's 35-foot jumper at the buzzer gave Heidelberg a 96-95 Ohio Conference victory over Baldwin - Wallace; Jim Carder scored 34 as Findlay beat Hillsdale 103-89; Ohio Northern upset Bluffton 84-75, and Dave Warren's 33 led Cleveland State over Western Reserve 99-75.

Ohio U., now 3-4 in the Mid-Am, stayed close to Miami through most of the first half but the Redskins led 35-30 at intermission and pulled away shortly afterward on six straight points by Jerry Peirson. Jim Patterson's 19 points and Peirson's 16 led Miami while Mike Hammond had 17 for the Bobcats.

Toledo won with the help of Bob Aston's 29 points.

Dayton wiped out a 10-point Xavier lead in the last 10 minutes but fell behind 71-70 before a goal and two free throws by Henry Finkel and two foul conversions by Gene Klaus told the tale. Don May scored 28 and Finkel 22 for the Flyers, Bryan Williams 30 and Bob Quick 21 for the Musketeers.

Chick Campbell's 25 points and a tip-in by Dean Nicholson that broke a 51-51 tie with 1:16 left enabled Mount Union to bump Wooster. Akron capitalized on the Raider success by rolling to its 33rd straight home triumph as Ken Mackovic scored 23 and Bill Turner 21 against Oberlin.

Palmer Rates Favorite In Phoenix Open Golf

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, off to his fastest winter tour start in history, was the man to beat as the $60,000 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament opened today over a soggy Arizona Country Club course.

Palmer, who has a first, two seconds and a third in four starts this year, won the Phoenix event in 1961, 1962 and 1963.

Palmer and the rest of the field, which includes all five 1966 champions, were keeping an eye on the sky. Rain and hail forced cancellation of Wednesday's pro-am competition midway through the round.

Party cloudy skies were expected today with a chance of more afternoon showers. Temperatures ranging from the mid 30s to the mid 50s were forecast.

Ken Venturi, the 1964 U.S. Open champ, was one of those most concerned with the cold. His hands, operated on last summer for circulatory problems, are easily numbed by chilly weather, and he must employ gloves and hand warmers on brisk days.

Venturi, who captured the Lucky International title last month in San Francisco, played in what there was of Wednesday's pro-am and appeared to have little difficulty with the cold.

Venturi and Palmer, who won the Los Angeles Open, join Bob Hope Classic champ Doug Sanders, San Diego Open winner Billy Casper and Bing Crosby titlist Don Massengale in the field.

The rain-soaked rye grass fairways of the 6,765-yard, par-71 course were playing long, favoring the big hitters like Palmer.

Rod Funseth is the defending Phoenix champion. The 32-year-old Spokane, Wash., campaigner used the tourney as a springboard to his best season ever — $30,647 in official money — last year.

Although he's won just $2,341 over-all so far in 1966, Funseth's closing rounds of 68-66 were the best in last week's Bob Hope event.

Only a handful of pros finished before rain washed out Wednesday's activity. Of those who did, George Knudson and Randy Glover had the best scores with 69s.

Celtics Push NBA Lead To Three Games

By The Associated Press

Less than two weeks ago, the Boston Celtics were out of first place in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

Today they hold a three-game edge over Cincinnati and Philadelphia, and they indicate the margin may grow bigger.

The Celtics trimmed New York 121-117 Wednesday night, snapping the Knicks' four-game winning streak. In other games, Philadelphia rolled past Detroit 108-91 and Los Angeles outlasted Baltimore 123-116 in overtime.

The Celtics' victory was their sixth in the last eight games and boosted their lead over idle Cincinnati to three games. Philadelphia remained three back.

Mel Counts sparked the Boston triumph, scoring 18 points and grabbing nine rebounds in just 16 minutes of play. With New York threatening in the final quarter, the 7-footer came off the bench and scored six straight points for a 108-99 Celtics' lead.

Six Celtics scored 15 points or better with Bull Russell leading the group with 20. Dick Barnett had 32 for the Knicks.

Wilt Chamberlein poured in 30 points as Philadelphia downed Detroit. He now needs only 98 points to equal Bob Pettit's all-time NBA scoring record of 20,880.

Dukes Come From Behind To Nip Foe

By The Associated Press

Duquesne defeated Kentucky Wesleyan 63-60 and a surprising St. Vincent team beat Waynesburg 105-93 Wednesday night in Western Pennsylvania college basketball games.

The Dukes had to come from behind at Pittsburgh's Civic Arena to trim the spunky Kentucky team. With only four minutes left and trailing 60-57, the Dukes sank four free throws and hit on a field goal while holding the Panthers scoreless.

Jimmy Smith led the Duquesne scoring with 16 points. Don Bradley and Dallas Thornton sparked the Kentucky attack with 16 points apiece.

In a West Penn Conference game at Waynesburg, St. Vincent won its second game of the season by downing the Yellow Jackets. St. Vincent, which has lost 14, got its first season victory last week by upsetting St. Francis of Loretto.

John Pranatis paced the St. Vincent attack against Waynesburg with 25 points. High scorer for Waynesburg was Dave Smith who had 19.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

OMER SCOTT. In loving remembrance of our dear husband and father, who was called home 2 years ago, Feb. 8, 1964. Sad and sudden was the call. Of one so dear and loved by all. His loving heart had ceased to beat. Before we knew it, he was gone. A bitter grief, a shock severe. To part with one we loved so dear. God loved him too and thought it best. So He took him home to eternal rest. But only those who loved him best can tell. The heartache of not saying a last farewell.

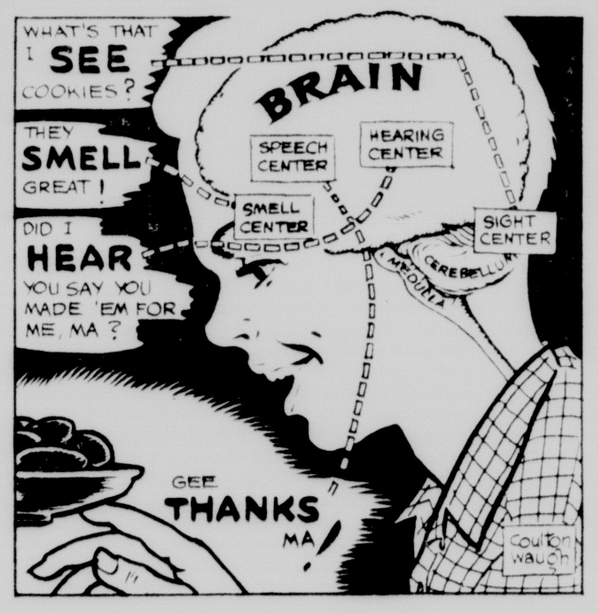
A Junior Editors Quiz About THE BRAIN



QUESTION: How does the human brain work?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Your brain is far more intricate than any machine ever built. It is a center which directs the activity of your body. Your sense organs continually send in information about outside conditions. This is gathered together and compared with past experience. Decisions then are made and commands sent out to various parts of the body telling them what to do. Study the picture and you'll see the location of specialized centers where information from Harry's sense organs are sent. Above the upper, main part of his brain, or cerebrum, is a layer of gray matter cells called the cortex. These are thought to tie the various reports from the centers together, comparing them with memories of past events. The part of this layer toward the front has to do with thought and consciousness. Here Harry can realize that what he sees and smells are cookies and can send commands to the motor part of the brain which controls the movements of various parts of the body. He sends out a command for his hand to reach for a cookie and for his speech organs to thank his mother for making them.

FOR YOU TO DO: Use your cortex to decide whether or not we have left out some very important sections of the brain. We have. These are the medulla and cerebellum, called the hindbrain. Reports also come in here, and messaegs are sent out; but these parts work automatically. They control many things such as breathing, balance.

How Can I?

ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I remedy small splits or "checks" that sometimes appear in old or weathered plywood panels?

A.—You can give these panels a new surface by rubbing floor filler into the cracks with burlap or other coarse cloth, working across the grain. Then, when dry and sanded, you'll have a smooth, solid base for a new coat of paint.

Q.—How can I avoid any danger of my freshly-polished silverware's discoloring?

A.—With an application of white shellac. To remove the shellac later, wipe the silverware with denatured alcohol, then wash in mild soap and water.

Q.—Please suggest a few tips on the successful making of gravy.

A.—If your gravy is lumpy, beat it with an eggbeater until the lumps disappear. If your gravy does not brown as you would like it, add a tablespoon of strong coffee to it. And the addition of a tablespoon of cream to brown gravy gives it a delicious flavor, too.
